Economy crawled in FY22's last quarter to 4.1%

No risk of recession, says Chief Economic Advisor V Anantha Nageswaran; hopes private investment would pick up soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

INDIA's GDP growth for the January-March 2022 quarter slowed to 4.1% compared to 5.4% in the year-ago period, data released by the Ministry of Statistics on Tuesday showed. The growth is the slowest in FY22. In the second and first quarters, growth was 8.5% and 20.3%,respectively.

However, the country registered overall growth of 8.7% for full year FY22, compared with the contraction of 6.6% in FY21.

Chief Economic Advisor Venkatraman Anantha Nageswaran blamed Omicron for the tepid growth, saying several sectors such as hospitality, tourism, real estate and aviation were impacted. Besides, the Russia-Ukraine war hampered growth.

Talking to reporters, Nageswaran played down the risk of recession. "I don't see the prospects of recession for India in FY23. People normally consider two quarters of growth contraction as a recession. As far as India is concerned, I don't think this is on the cards for FY23."

The CEA also sounded optimistic about private investment in the country, which got adversely affected by the pandemic and geopolitical tensions. He expects it to pick up in the second half of the current year.

Commenting on the GDP numbers, Dharmakirti Joshi, chief economist at CRISIL, said: "The Indian economy in fiscal 2022 was only 1.5% above the pre-pandemic level (fiscal 2020), compared with 1.8% estimated earlier. But the estimates for both private consumption and fixed investment estimates are a touch higher than before."

Meanwhile, government finances looked slightly better than expected with provisional data showing fiscal deficit at ₹15.86 lakh crore was 6.7% of the FY22 GDP against the revised budget estimate of 6.9%. Gross tax collection soared to 34% to ₹27 lakh crore while net tax collection (after deducting state's share) stood at ₹18.2 lakh crore against the revised budget estimate of ₹17.65 lakh crore. P13

TELLING NUMBERS

Real GDP growth in FY22 was 8.7% lower than the govt's earlier estimate of 8.9% in February

GDP in the fourth quarter rose by 4.1% compared to 5.4% in the third quarter

SIZE OF INDIA'S ECONOMY (nominal GDP) — 19% growth

FY21 ₹198.01 lakh cr

FY22 ₹236.65 lakh cr

Private final consumption expenditure, which accounts for 55-56% of GDP, grew 7.9% in FY22 but it is only ₹1.2 lakh crore higher than that in FY20

Core sector growth rose to a six-month high 8.4% in April 2022 from 4.9% in March 2022

Centre's fiscal deficit in FY22 was lower at 6.7% than the revised budgeted target of 6.9% on the back of strong tax collection

Govt's gross tax revenue surged 34% with corporate taxes increasing 55% and income tax collection by 43%

CM on textbook row: Will act after minister's report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mangaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said he has sought a report from Primary and Secondary Education Minister B C Nagesh on the controversies surrounding revision of school textbooks.

Responding to a query on the agitation to drop Karnataka Textbook Committee chairman Rohith Chakrathirtha, the CM said he was expecting a report by Wednesday, based on which he will take action.

"Nagesh has told me that he will explain in detail about all aspects in the report. He has met and spoken to Adi Chunchanagiri Swamiji about the issue. He has informed me that he will throw light on many aspects. Based on the report, I will take action," he said.

Meanwhile, Sanehalli Mutt seer Dr Panditharadhya Shivacharya Swami alleged that a revised text on 12th century social reformer Basavanna in Class 9 social science textbook has been misinterpreted by textbook revision committee chairman Rohit Chakratirtha and the modified text should be scrapped immediately. DKS must appear on July 1: ED court

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

IT IS trouble brewing for Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President D K Shivakumar after a special Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) court in Delhi on Tuesday summoned him and others to appear before it on July 1 in a 2018 money laundering case. Special Judge Vikas Dhull took cognizance of the prosecution complaint (PC) filed by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) through its Special Public Prosecutor Nitesh Rana last week against Shivakumar and others under the PMLA, 2002.

Speaking to TNIE, the KPCC President questioned the timing of the prosecution complaint and said that he will appear before the special court.

"They (ED) could have filed the chargesheet against me and others six months after they had arrested me. It is an open secret why they waited for three years to do it," said the Congress leader.

Terrorists kill on-duty woman teacher in Valley

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

IN the second targeted killing of minority community members in the Valley this month, terrorists on Tuesday shot dead a female Hindu teacher on her school premises in south Kashmir's Kulgam district. It set off warnings from the jittery Kashmiri Pandits posted across the Valley under the PM's job scheme, of mass migration if they are not relocated to safer places outside Kashmir within 24 hours.

The police identified the teacher as Rajni Bala (36), who hailed from Samba district. They said terrorists pumped bullets into her from close range while she was at her high school in the Gopalpora area of Kulgam. The school does not have a compound wall. Bala sustained critical gunshot injuries and was declared brought dead in a local hospital.

Bala and her husband were posted in the Valley about five years ago in two different government schools in Kulgam. Her husband said he had sought her transfer multiple times. Parallelly, Bala had requested officials that the couple be posted in one school itself. "Last evening, her request was granted. It would have taken us 3-4 days to join our new place of work," he said.

An under-construction welcome arch at St Martha's Hospital collapsed in Bengaluru on Tuesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

1 dies as portico collapses at St Martha's Hospital

The other injured are stable and are undergoing treatment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ONE worker was killed and three others injured when an under-construction portico collapsed at St. Martha's Hospital on Nrupathunga Road in Bengaluru on Tuesday. The deceased has been identified as Basavaraj (24). The incident took place at around 6.10 am when the labourers were working on the top portion of the portico. The labourers are from Raichur and were working here for the past two months.

All four victims were trapped under the debris of the portico after it collapsed. They were later admitted to the same hospital, where Basavaraj succumbed to his injuries.

The three injured who are undergoing treatment have been identified as Chand Pasha, 31, Mohinuddin, 27 and Mohammed Rafi, 30.

The labourers were renovating the portico at the entrance of the outpatient department of the hospital when the supporting steel frame of the portico broke following which all four fell down from a height of over 20 feet. Another labourer, Raja Saab managed to jump from the same height and escaped unhurt. "Unfortunately, one of the injured labourers Basavaraj succumbed to his injuries at around 1.55 pm. The other injured are stable and are undergoing treatment. The cost of treatment will be borne by the hospital," Anto Deol, Public Relations Officer, St. Martha's Hospital told TNIE.

The Fire and Emergency Services Department received a call at around 6.31 am and rushed its personnel to the spot. "Of the four rescued, one was unconscious and extremely critical. Three fire tenders were pressed into service," R Mahesh, a senior fire department officer told TNIE.

The family members of the labourers stay in temporary sheds near a private hospital in Madiwala. Pasha's wife Umnabi told TNIE that Raja Saab informed them about the incident. "We got a call at around 6.30 am and were told that my husband and three others were critical. We rushed to the hospital. My husband works as a waterproofing technician and is paid Rs 500 per day. Except for Basavaraj, all the other labourers are related to each other," she added.

The jurisdictional Halasuru Gate police have registered cases of causing death by negligence (IPC 304A), negligence towards endangering human life (IPC 337) and causing grievous injury (IPC 338).

"A complaint was registered immediately after recording the statement of one of the survivors under IPC Sections 337 and 338. Since one of the workers died in the afternoon, IPC Section 304A was registered in the evening after receiving the death memo. No person has been arrested," said a police officer.

Rain is here, 6k potholes still unfilled

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MONSOON has arrived in the State, but Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) which had identified 10,000 killer craters has managed to fix only 4,524 potholes in the city. A whopping 6,084 potholes are still crying for attention.

BBMP Special Commissioner P N Ravindra told reporters that the Palike, after identifying potholes through 'FIX My Street' app, fixed 3,488 potholes and on Monday alone over 1,000 potholes were filled. He said the remaining potholes will be fixed soon.

To a question on delay in work, he said, unlike bad roads and stretches of road which can be fixed at one go, fixing potholes is time consuming and labour intensive. He also spoke on the maintenance of flyovers and bridges by BBMP. He said two years ago, in September 2020, a private company had carried out a survey and given fitness certificates to some completed projects. "This process will be taken up again," he said. On the Gorgunte flyover, he said since no heavy vehicle is being allowed, officials concerned will be asked to submit a status report.

HC seeks report on assault on MD's husband

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court on Tuesday directed BBMP to submit a report on action taken with regard to the assault by Chief Engineer BS Prahlad (Road and Infrastructure) on the husband of the managing director of the company, which was entrusted with filling up potholes. He also assaulted one of the directors at a meeting held on May 27. A division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Ashok S Kinagi ordered that the report be submitted on June 6, after senior advocate Jayna Kothari, representing American Road Technology Solutions, drew the attention of the court to the alleged assault, during a hearing. Kothari submitted before court that during the meeting, Prahlad assaulted and punched the managing director's husband and a director. The other BBMP staff saved them, and a written complaint was made to the Chief Commissioner, she informed court. She also submitted that American Road Technology Solutions has been assigned the job of filling potholes on 182km of roads, by the BBMP.

Delimitation of wards

As BBMP wards will be further split and increased to 243 from the existing 198 through delimitation, Ravindra said the process is complete and the report will be sent to the Urban Development Department. From there it will go to the Chief Minister's office for approval.

IKEA to launch its first B'luru store on June 22

BENGALURU: Swedish furniture and homeware retailer IKEA will open its first store in Bengaluru at Nagasandra on June 22. The 4.60 lakh sqft store will feature over 7,000 home furnishing products and the large format store will be connected to Nagasandra Metro Station. Last week, CEO of Ingka group (IKEA India is part of the Ingka Group) Jesper Brodin met Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at the World Economic Forum Meet in Davos and held discussions about opening the store.

Unhappy with Metro? Air grievances on new website

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

EVEN as former top cop-turned-politician Bhaskar Rao was suggesting to Namma Metro commuters last week to form a welfare association on the lines of Railways to air their grievances, it seems the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd had planned such a facility sometime back. In its new website, launched on Tuesday evening, Namma Metro has the 'grievances' section for commuters.

General Manager, IT, Social and Environmental Issues, Divya Hosur, told TNIE, "We had our soft roll-out of the website today and it has numerous commuter-friendly features. This is just the first phase and will improve it in the next phase. It features the first and last train from each station and the fare between stations. The next phase that will come up in 3 to 4 months will also give information on first and last mile connectivity to stations."

The website, www.bmrc.co.in, is in both Kannada and English.

On the grievances section, Hosur said, "We had prepared the website in January, but were adding new aspects. In this system, the grievance filed by an individual will directly go to three levels instantly, the specific site engineer, the chief engineer and the executive director/general manager of the project or area. This will ensure problems are addressed speedily and every grievance is given importance."

The project has been built in-house with only design support taken from outside, Hosur added. "The technology used is React js, webapi.net, ms sql," she said.

BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said, "The website is in its trial run phase. Creative and positive suggestions are welcome from people to give it a final shape."

LOKAYUKTA SEEKS DETAILS OF ASSETS OF OFFICIALS

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta, which earned a special place for cracking down on corrupt officials and elected representatives, has landed in an embarrassing situation following its notice to the BBMP. As per reports, Lokayukta officials sent a notice on April 21, asking the Mayor and BBMP Council members to file details of their assets before June 30. Interestingly, the term of the BBMP elected members ended in September 2020, and an Administrator was appointed to govern the municipality. The letter was also addressed to the Chief Commissioner, asking BBMP to comply with the notice under the Lokayukta Act 1984, Section 22, and ensure the details are furnished. Special Commissioner, Projects, PN Ravindra, confirming the goof-up, said the Palike will clarify to the Lokayukta. "The term of elected representatives ended in September 2020. The notice seeks asset details from the Mayor, Deputy Mayor and other members for the years 2021 and 2022, and now Palike will reply to the notice," he said.

VEHICLES ABANDONED

The official informed that many unclaimed vehicles are piling up in Palike limits. A survey showed that 784 vehicles were parked in East Zone, and no one had claimed them so far.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

01st June : Aries is still my top zodiac sign. That's good for people who are rushing ahead, brimming with energy, eager to launch new projects. If you're in the mood for extra rest and relaxation it's not so good. Within a few days the Moon will have shifted its position and those who like to take life slowly will be in the ascendant.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Current planetary influences seem to be making you more confident of your ground at home. Soon you will be able to confuse people by being nice to them for a change, so put down the stick and pick up the carrot! You may be pleasantly surprised by at least one person's reactions.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Keep remembering that it's important to do things in line with what is right ethically and morally, and you won't go far wrong. It's not that the stars punish self-interest, only that what's right for you at the moment is the same as what's right for everyone.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon has moved on since yesterday, reflecting alterations in your mood and disposition. At the same time as you have to complete outstanding practical tasks, today is the moment to contemplate the bigger picture, reminding yourself that you don't live by bread alone.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Mars is still sufficiently intimately aligned with sensitive sectors in your chart to suggest that you can stamp your foot, bang the table and insist on getting your own way. However, you're now exactly on the boundary between a demanding phase and a giving one.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
At least you are beginning to focus on the real, underlying facts. Having argued or procrastinated over professional or other ambitious matters for some months, you are soon to be able to wrap up an important decision, but not, I must add, before next week.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Life is not always straightforward, and there's no point in expecting it to be! If you are now torn between past associations and future involvements, you are not alone. The confusing impressions emanate from Pisces, a sign which is always moving in two directions at once, so be patient.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Partners or close companions are at last doing the right thing, and about time too! Someone is finally prepared to listen to you, which must be a considerable relief. But they must also be allowed to say their piece. Hopefully the air will be cleared before long.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your best course of action is not clear, so you should be prepared to let another person take the initiative. Follow their lead and watch carefully for the indications that it is now time for you to take over. They'll appreciate your trust and support.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Everything now signifies that social and romantic arrangements should be finalised. Domestic affairs may be confusing, if pleasant, while the greatest inspiration could come from close contacts with family members. In fact, words of wisdom might arrive from the most unexpected people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There are so many adverse alignments connected with planets like Mars and Saturn that it is surprising when both these planets encourage you to make practical improvements. You may feel that you have had the rough end of the bargain, but someone is soon going to pay you the apology you deserve.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
All your instincts and hunches are urging you to hang on in there and not let go. This is probably very wise, but sooner or later something at home is going to have to be talked about and discussed. Prepare your story now, and make sure it fits the facts!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Events that take place today may remind you that you have a number of responsibilities to people in your care. On the other hand you will also be more in control and therefore well fitted to discharge your duties, including an outstanding promise to a close friend.

Soon, an online database of health professionals

Data to be uploaded on Centre's portal to make India global source in health sector

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka health department has initiated the process of compiling a database of all its healthcare professionals, including doctors, nurses and pharmacists. Under the Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission, the Central health ministry is developing an online repository of all categories of healthcare professionals. The data being compiled by the state health department is to be uploaded on a portal to be launched by the Union government, to make India a global source in the health sector.

"We have initiated the process under Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission. The data compiled will be sent to the ministry to be uploaded on the portal," said Randeep D, Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare department.

According to officials, doctors can upload information on the portal voluntarily, and also mention the country where they wish to work. According to reports, the portal will be ready by June 15, and post that, professionals will be allowed to register themselves. They can enter their educational qualification, languages they know, visa details, country-specific qualifying exams taken, along with background information.

A senior officer from the health department said the online repository will help external stakeholders like patients and recruiters from India or abroad to search for a required professional based on the speciality or system of medicine, languages known, and country they prefer to work in. Meanwhile, the government has also assured data security. "The personal information provided will be authenticated by UIDAI, while registration details will be verified by the respective councils," a senior official said.

All health professionals, both allopathy and traditional medicine, dentists, pharmacists, nurses and other categories of allied health professions can register.

The National Health Authority has already started collating data of healthcare professionals in collaboration with various regulatory bodies such National Medical Commission, Dental Council of India, National Commission for Indian System of Medicine, National Commission for Homoeopathy, Indian Nursing Council, Pharmacy Council of India and National Commission for Allied and Healthcare Professions.

The official said the portal being developed under ABDM will globally promote the visibility of Indian healthcare professionals and the services they provide.

HOSP OVERCHARGES PATIENT, KIN SAY COPS LOCKED UP SON

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

A family from Bengaluru has alleged that a private hospital in KG Halli not only overcharged a patient with a bill of Rs 2.07 lakh, but also locked up their son in the local police station for more than 24 hours for not clearing the bill. Narrating their ordeal, Asghar Sharief, a 55-year-old auto driver, told TNIE, "I had severe wheezing attacks and my son admitted me to hospital on May 18, where they said I need oxygen. During my eight days of treatment, my family managed to get Rs 70,000 worth of medicines with great difficulty, and paid Rs 40,000 towards charges."

But Asghar was shocked to see a bill of Rs 2,07,050. The family requested the hospital to reduce the charges, but was turned down. A complaint was lodged with KG Halli police station. "Police took my son, saying they will take his statement and let him go home. But it's been more than 24 hours and my son is not home yet. I was discharged on Monday and told that my son will be set free after he clears the bills," explained Asghar.

DCP East Bheema Shankar Guled told TNIE, "On a complaint of the doctor, the son was called to the station to give his version. He was not detained."

Interestingly, a neurosurgeon from Vellore, Dr Akhil Raj, who knew the family, looked into the bill and was shocked to find several disparities and blatant overcharging. He sent out emails to the health department, Karnataka health minister and health officials, seeking justice for the family. "Oxygen was charged at Rs 250 per hour. The hospital charged the patient for 121 hours on a day, and Rs 32,000 only for oxygen. How is this possible?" asks Dr Akhil.

On May 25, a BPAP machine which is charged at Rs 2,500 for 24 hours, has been billed Rs 10,000, the doctor said. Doctors' visiting charges had been added multiple times in a single day.

According to Dr Akhil, the boy was kept in custody without an FIR for more than 24 hours. The family decided to approach the health minister and police commissioner. Police officials denied the boy was with them. "We filed an NCR based on a complaint by the hospital against Salman for not paying the bill. He requested three days' time to arrange the money. We let him go," police said.

Meanwhile, the hospital did not respond to several calls made by TNIE.

Bring in law to convict accused in absentia: HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court said legislature must think of bringing in a suitable amendment to the Code of Criminal Procedure or special law to enable court to conduct proceedings in absence of the accused. The amendment, perhaps, may deter unscrupulous elements who avoid summons or execution of warrant against them, the court added.

Justice Sreenivas Harish Kumar passed the order while remanding back six cases, wherein an accused was sentenced and convicted in absentia under the Negotiable Instruments Act for dishonour of cheques, to the Magistrate Court in Udupi to hear afresh. The accused did not appear despite being served summons. The accused should pay cost of Rs 2,000 to the complainant in each case, the judge said. The court said it is trite to observe that in the Code of Criminal Procedure, there is no provision for keeping an accused ex parte, similar to the one found in Code of Civil Procedure which provides for placing a defendant ex parte if there is summons or notice is served on him.

GH Abdul Kadri, resident of Agumbe, filed six criminal revision petitions before the high court, questioning the conviction and sentences passed by the trial court in Udupi, which were confirmed by the Principal District and Sessions Judge in 2019 at Udupi. The petitioner obtained a loan from Iqbal, resident of Udupi taluk, and issued six cheques which were dishonoured for want of sufficient funds in his account. The Magistrate accepted the affidavits filed by Iqbal, dispensed with the statement of the accused under Section 313 CrPC and proceeded to convict and sentence the petitioner in all the cases, without giving the accused an opportunity to defend himself. The sessions court also confirmed the orders.

All parties short of votes for 4th RS seat, it is a 3-way contest now

Fight between Kupendra Reddy of JDS, Mansur of Cong, Lehar of BJP

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman files her nomination papers for the upcoming Rajya Sabha elections, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | EXPRESS

THE June 10 Rajya Sabha polls in Karnataka to elect four members has entered an exciting phase with all the three major political parties, which do not have adequate number of surplus votes for the fourth candidate on their own, gambling to garner the support of rival parties.

JDS has fielded former Rajya Sabha member Kupendra Reddy and the onus of getting him elected falls on JDS HD Deve Gowda, who picked him. Gowda has reportedly spoken to both AICC president Sonia Gandhi and Prime Minister Narendra Modi to garner support, sources said. Things will become clear after senior party leader HD Kumaraswamy returns from Singapore on Thursday, while the deadline to withdraw nominations is Friday.

Sensing that JDS with 32 MLAs and Congress with 24 surplus votes after allotting 46 to its nominee Jairam Ramesh are unlikely to enter into an agreement, BJP sprung a surprise by fielding MLC Lehar Singh Siroya. Besides seeking the support of some Congress and JDS MLAs, whom Lehar Singh can convince, BJP is banking on second preferential votes. "If some Congress and JDS MLAs cross vote and Lehar Singh emerges with the highest number of votes, he will certainly win with the second preferential votes from the party," a source said.

Congress is unlikely to withdraw its second candidate Mansur Ali Khan unless Gowda strikes a deal with Sonia, sources said.

"If there is cross-voting, the political future of MLAs will not be affected. The maximum that parties can do is to suspend or dismiss such MLAs," remarked a leader.

Parties are allegedly using different inducements, including the promise of a ticket in the 2023 Assembly polls and cash, to target MLAs, political observers said.

EXPRESS PLAINER

How voting happens

Karnataka will send four members to the Rajya Sabha through the June 10 polls. All the 224 MLAs will exercise their franchise through Single Transferable Vote. Parties set the quota for the victory of each RS candidate based on a formula. The total number of valid votes exercised, divided by the number of RS seats going for polls plus 1 additional vote is required. If all the 224 MLAs vote, the quota will be 44.8 plus one vote. If the decimal is ignored, a candidate has to get at least 45 votes. BJP, which has 122 MLAs including the support of an independent, is likely to allot 46 votes to each of its first two candidates to be on the safer side. Surplus 32 votes will be allotted to its third candidate. Congress, which has 70 votes including that of an independent, is likely to allot 46 votes to its first candidate and the surplus 24 to its second candidate. JDS with 32 MLAs will allot them to its candidate. If candidates contesting for the fourth seat get 45 votes, they will be declared elected. If none of them get the required votes, those who secure the highest votes among the three will be considered for the counting of the second preferential votes (polled by the MLAs) by eliminating the one who takes the lowest. Advantage BJP in battle for extra seat

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

BJP's Lehar Singh files his papers in Bengaluru on Tuesday | EXPRESS

THE BJP appears to have a clear advantage in the battle for the fourth Rajya Sabha seat, while Kupendra Reddy (JDS) and Mansur Khan (INC) may find the going difficult.

Statistically, the BJP has the support of 122 seats. The party needs 45 seats per candidate -- 90 votes to get FM Nirmala Sitharaman and Jaggesh elected -- and will have 32 spare votes which will go to its third candidate, MLC Lehar Singh, who will also get the highest number of second preferential votes. This means that if Kupendra Reddy gets 32 votes, he may not get elected because Lehar Singh will have the higher second preference vote.

Add to this, MLAs H Nagesh (Ind), N Mahesh (BSP) and Sharath Bache Gowda (Ind) need not show their votes to the whip before casting them. It means the BJP has to ensure that Nagesh and Mahesh vote for Singh, and get Sharath's vote — he had won as a BJP rebel. If the party manages this, it will have one vote more than Kupendra Reddy and more second preference votes.

There have been instances of cross-voting in the past. During the 2016 Rajya Sabha election, 8 JDS MLAs cross-voted for the Congress, including Zameer Ahmed Khan. They were eventually disqualified from the JDS, and joined the Congress. These JDS MLAs got Rs 100 crore each as grant for their constituencies. Now, since the BJP is in government in the state and Centre, it clearly has the edge.

Lehar Singh, too, is confident of a win. "My Congress and JDS friends will vote for me, I have won earlier also." Minister R Ashoka was equally sure. "We have the highest second preference votes, we know what to do legally and we will do it to win," he said.

One source said there is no way the Congress can win, considering it has only 24 first-preference votes, so Mansoor could withdraw before the last date of nomination. The JDS managed to get patriarch H D Deve Gowda into the Rajya Sabha last time with a similar vote strength. If Gowda, who has friends in the Congress and BJP, can swing it this time, it may be another story, or Reddy will have to withdraw on Friday, and save the party embarrassment.

Only those with money can win RS poll: Horatti

KARWAR: Former chairman of the Legislative Council Basavaraj Horatti has kicked up a controversy with his statements on Rajya Sabha elections, and that he joined the BJP out of compulsion. The nine-time MLC said that in future, Rajya Sabha elections will be won by those who have money. Horatti was on a tour of Uttara Kannada district when he was questioned by the media. On his recent move to the saffron party, he said his voters (teachers) insisted on it, and that he took this decision as there were some unexpected changes. "I am here because of it. When there are changes, we need to adapt to situations," he said. ENS

Two more poets want their poems out of textbooks

Members of DSS and other organisations protest against the textbook review committee, in Mysuru on Tuesday | UDAYASHANKAR S

AS a controversy over revision of school textbooks is snowballing, poets Mudnakudu Chinnaswamy and Rupa Hassan on Tuesday wrote to Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh withdrawing permission for their poems in textbooks. Chinnaswamy said he is taking back the approval for his Nanna Kavithege poem in the Class 5 Kannada textbook, while Rupa said her poem Ammanaguvudadare should not be included in the Class 9 syllabus.

Over the last few days, Hampa Nagarajaiah has quit from the Rashtrakavi Kuvempu Pratishtana, while Prof SG Siddaramaiah from the Rashtrakavi S Shivarudrappa Pratishtana, protesting against the alleged saffronisation textbooks by textbook review committee headed by Rohit Chakrathirtha. Chinnaswamy said the Kannada literary world is bewildered by saffronisation of textbooks, misinformation on Basavanna and insults heaped on Rashtrakavi Kuvempu, which amounts to insulting the Kannada cultural consciousness. "The education sector, which has to shape future generations and help build a healthy society, coming under assault over unwarranted issues is regrettable," he remarked.

Rupa said she is not happy with the syllabus selected by Chakrathirtha. She said the government has insulted writers and poets by including unwanted syllabus and omitting important thoughts. The government has neglected women writers and scholars by not including their poems or texts in the SSLC Kannada syllabus, she added. Some progressive thinkers pointed to another flaw in a chapter on Dr B R Ambedkar, saying the reasons for him joining Buddhism have been concealed.

Facts twisted, says Sanehalli Mutt seer on revised Basavanna chapter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chitradurga, Hubballi, Belagavi

SANEHALLI Mutt seer Dr Panditharadhya Shivacharya Swami on Tuesday urged the State Government to retain the old lesson on 12th century social reformer Basavanna instead of the revised text in Class 9 social science textbook. In a letter to CM Bommai, the seer alleged that the ideology of Basavanna has been misinterpreted by textbook revision committee chairman Rohit Chakratirtha and the modified text should be scrapped immediately.

"In the book, it is mentioned that Basavanna wore a janivara (sacred thread) and went to Kudala Sangama... This is totally wrong... It sends out a wrong message," he added.

"Basavanna rebelled against Vedic philosophy and formed the Lingayat dharma that propagates equality, which is totally missing from the new text," he pointed out, adding that education should not be politicised. He warned the government of a state-wide agitation if it fails to revise the chapter containing wrong information on Basavanna.

Meanwhile, Jaya Myuthyunjaya Swami of Kudala Sangama said that he "felt like a stone hitting his chest after seeing the revised chapter on Basavanna". He said in Hubballi that the principles of Basavanna and Kuvempu are being misinterpreted. Hitting out at Bommai, he said, "Correct the mistakes before releasing the books. If Basavanna's principles are twisted, we won't tolerate it."

Meanwhile, several litterateurs from across the state have appealed to the government to immediately withdraw their poems from school textbooks in protest against what they allege is the unscientific review of textbooks by the review committee.

Noted Poet and journalist Dr Sarjoo Katkar said he was withdrawing the approval which he had given earlier to include his poem 'Shabhdagalu' in the Class 9 school textbook.

Would've fielded her in polls, says an impressed PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kalaburagi

THIS woman from Kalaburagi district was so impressive during a video-conference with the Prime Minister on the Ayushman Bharat scheme on Tuesday that Narendra Modi said if he were a local leader, he would have fielded her in elections.

Santoshi of Kinny village in Kamalapur taluk of Kalaburagi district was the talk of the town as she enthusiastically listed out benefits of the scheme. She was the only woman who had been selected for the Garib Kalyan Sammelan, which was a video interaction with the Prime Minister. When her turn came, the conversation started with Modi greeting her and asking her if he had benefited from any of the central schemes. Once given the forum, Santoshi came into her element and thanked the Prime Minister for the scheme, and said how she, her mother and most villagers at Kinni had benefited from it. Being a health insurance scheme for the poor, it helped them get treated for their ailments, she said.

As she was not fluent in Hindi, she spoke in Kannada which was translated by a helper.

The Prime Minister said that though he does not know Kannada, he was impressed by the way she briefed him. He said if he was in Karnataka as a BJP activist, he would have arranged to field her in any of the elections.

Santoshi, later talking to the media, said she is an ordinary BJP activist and thanked Modi for his encouraging words. She said her mother Neelamma is a BP and diabetics patient, and she had to spend a lot of money on treatment before health officials briefed them about the Ayushman Bharat scheme and gave them the health card. Asked if she would contest elections, Santoshi said if the party picks her, it would be nothing but blessings from the Prime Minister. The programme was organised in the auditorium of PDA College of Engineering.

MALALI MOSQUE CASE

Court starts hearing plea

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

A local court here on Tuesday started hearing a petition over the controversy related to the Jumma Masjid in Malali near Mangaluru. A "temple-like structure" had emerged during the demolition of the centuries old mosque.

Advocate Chidananda Kedilaya representing the petitioners said they have requested the court to order a survey of the disputed site through the court commissioner which is assisted by the archaeological department.

The objections will be heard on Wednesday.

About a month ago, a petition was filed by one Dhananjaya and others, claiming that the structure of the masjid is similar to the temple and demanding an investigation by the archaeological and other concerned departments. The petition said that the truth has to come out through investigation and till then status quo should be maintained.

Based on the petition, the court had granted an order of injunction against the mosque authorities and restrained anyone from dismantling or damaging the structure till the case is heard. The mosque representatives requested to revoke the injunction by raising objections to it under the provisions of Places of Worship Act and the Wakf Act.

Kodihalli removed as KRRS state chief

THE Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) and Hasiru Sene have dismissed farmer leader Kodihalli Chandrashekhar from the post of state president over charges of corruption against him.

An emergency state committee meeting was called at the Raitha Sangha's office here on Tuesday, where HR Basavarajappa was appointed as its state president.

Basavarajappa told reporters that Chandrashekhar failed to clear his name and provide a clarification to the Sangha. "He did not even resign on his own. The issue is humiliating and a black mark on the Sangha. The incident made the sacred green shawl lose respect and value. If Chandrashekhar was innocent, he would have filed a defamation case against the media house that telecast the sting operation," he added.

"We had clues about some scams by Chandrashekhar, but we had no proof. He has his own company. If he is interested in building the company, he should have resigned and entered the real estate business," he said.

Basavarajappa said if the allegations against Chandrashekhar are proven, the Sangha will dismiss him from the primary membership as well. The Sangha will form a fact-finding committee comprising five members to investigate the allegations.

Repeated calls to Kodihalli Chandrashekhar went unanswered.

HE added that he was granted bail in the (PMLA) case by the Supreme Court in October 2019. According to informed sources, though the PC in PMLA cases, where the suspect has been arrested should be filed within 60 days from the time of arrest, the Central agency took two-and a-half-years to file the PC against Shivakumar and others reportedly because they had to "collect evidence, much of which was shared by the Income Tax Department, which had earlier filed a chargesheet against them," said sources on condition of anonymity.

The ED in September 2018 had registered a case against Shivakumar and his four associates — Sachin Narayan (business associate), Sunil Kumar Sharma (proprietor of Sharma Transport), Anjaneya Hanumanthaiah (employee at Karnataka Bhawan, New Delhi) and N Rajendran, who is a former state government employee) — under the PMLA based on the chargesheet filed by the Income Tax Department, Karnataka & Goa, against them in early 2018 before a Special Court for Economic Offences (SCEO) in Bengaluru.

Karnataka gets GST compensation of Rs 8,633 crore

BENGALURU: Karnataka on Tuesday received Rs 8,633 crore from the Centre by way of GST compensation, which is the Centre's allocation to states for the loss of revenue after the implementation of Goods and Service Tax in 2017. The fund also serves as an insurance to states ensuring that they are sufficiently compensated for implementing the GST. The Centre had agreed to compensate the states for five years till June 2022. On Tuesday, the Centre cleared the entire GST compensation of Rs 86,912 crore due to different states, which was due till May 31, 2022. The amount will assist Karnataka and other states in managing their resources and ensuring that their programmes, especially the expenditure on capital, are carried out successfully. ENS

All eyes on PM, Mysuru drops plan to set new world record

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

YOGA enthusiasts and elected representatives from Mysuru district, who were aiming to set a new world record by gathering a large number of people at a single venue to perform yoga in the city on this year's International Yoga Day, have dropped the plan now, as the focus is completely on hosting the event with Prime Minister Narendra Modi leading the event in the city on June 21.

Speaking to media persons here on Tuesday, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha confirmed the development and said the record can be set even next year. "Our immediate focus is on the PM performing yoga in front of the Mysuru Palace. Over 75,000 people are expected to attend the event," he added.

The two-time MP, who inspected the palace premises with Mysuru City Corporation and Mysuru Urban Development Authority officials following finalisation of the venue, said it will be completely a Union Government-sponsored event and the State Government will only play a supportive role.

He said the funds will be allocated from the Centre, while local authorities will take up necessary road repair and other civil works. As Modi is expected to take the Mysuru-Nanjangud road after arriving at the Mysuru Airport, that stretch, the ring road and outer ring road will be cleaned up. Authorities have written to the election commission to exempt them from taking up civil and other works as a model code of conduct is in force for the forthcoming MLC polls from the south graduates' constituency. The MP said Modi is also expected to take part in an All-India Institute of Speech and Hearing event.

Monsoon arrives in K'taka, to be normal this year

Govt claims prepared to tackle emergencies; Men, material ready

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

WITH the India Meteorological Department confirming the arrival of the Southwest Monsoon in Karnataka on Tuesday, the government said it has already prepared a checklist to deal with emergencies. Karnataka, which falls under the South Peninsula region, is likely to witness "normal to above normal" rainfall, which is about 82 per cent. "The monsoon arrived in Karnataka today (May 31). Decrease in maximum temperature to clouds moving at low level are an indication that the monsoon has arrived. It rained over Karwar, Chikkamagaluru, Bengaluru and other areas," said Geetha Agnihotri, Director, IMD, Bengaluru.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka government says it has made arrangements to tackle emergencies arising out of the monsoon. From identifying vulnerable areas, putting Fire and Emergency department personnel and Home Guards on alert, keeping rescue boats ready etc, a detailed list has been sent to deputy commissioners of all districts. "The CM and Revenue Minister held meetings 15 days ago. I have already given a checklist to deputy commissioners, identified vulnerable areas, and formulated action plans at the gram panchayat level," Revenue Secretary TK Anil Kumar said.

Parts of Bengaluru received heavy showers on Tuesday evening

With the state likely to witness good rainfall this season, Karnataka State Disaster Management Authority (KSDMA) Commissioner Manoj Rajan has predicted that districts in North Karnataka are likely to have above normal rain, and the upper catchment areas of Krishna and Bheema river basins, falling in Maharashtra, will also have above normal rain.

Rain likely to be above normal in Telangana: IMD

Hyderabad: As monsoon is set to arrive in Telangana, India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued a long range forecast stating that southwest monsoon 2022 is going to be above normal in most parts of the State this season. The ongoing La Nina conditions from the previous year were slightly weakened in January and subsequently in this February, but again started strengthening from March 2022 onwards.

Wild elephant dies during capture mission

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Madikeri

A wild elephant was killed during a capture mission undertaken by the forest department. The incident was reported at Marandoda village limits in Virajpet taluk of Kodagu. The dead elephant is a female, aged approximately 35 years.

The elephant capture mission started at Marandoda near Cheyandane on Tuesday morning. Five tamed elephants alongside the forest staff took to the capture mission and the identified 35-year-old female elephant was separated from the herd and was tranquilized by veterinary Doctor Ramesh. After tranquilization, the injection to reverse the effects of anaesthetics was also administered. "Following this, the female elephant was moving cautiously and it was being shifted onto a truck with the help from tamed elephants. However, it collapsed on the way and died," confirmed Chakrapani, Virajpet DCF. Virajpet ACF Roshni added that the elephant might have suffered a cardiac arrest after being stressed. "We will know the cause of the death only after post-mortem," added Chakrapani.

The Kodagu division forest department has received permission to capture three wild elephants that often raid crops across the villages of the district. Last week, a 20-year-old female elephant was captured in Cheyandane village. This female elephant suffered a fracture on one of its legs during the capture mission and has to undergo an operation.

Meanwhile, the second capture mission ended with the tragic death of a female elephant on Tuesday. It is to be noted that the tranquilization experts and other senior officials from the department are currently involved in the tiger capture mission in South Kodagu. Only a post-mortem report will reveal the actual reason for the death of the female elephant.

K'taka to run its first 'Bharat Gaurav' train within two months

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government is keen on running its maiden 'Bharat Gaurav' train, part of theme-based tourist circuit trains, from Bengaluru to Kashi, Ayodhya and Prayagraj within two months. At least 25,000 people are expected to take the train annually.

A decision in this regard was taken at a meeting chaired by State Minister for Muzrai, Haj and Waqf, Shashikala Jolle on Tuesday. A source told TNIE, "The State is looking at 7-day pilgrimage trips. We held talks with SWR today. The Muzrai Minister is keen on starting it anytime between July 15 and July 31. The Indian Railway Catering and Tourism Corporation will take care of local transportation and accommodation needs." The Kashi Yatra subsidy of Rs 5,000 announced in the State budget for permanent residents of Karnataka can be availed by those who use the Bharat Gaurav train besides those who use other transportation modes, the source added.

Chief Commercial Manager, South Western Railway (SWR), Dr Anup Dayanand Sadhu said that SWR already has 23 three-tier AC coaches ready at KSR and Yesvantpur stations. "We will be asking the State to inspect and select the ones they want. They want trains with 14 coaches which can carry a maximum of 704 per trip and are looking at running 36 trips in a year," he said.

Minister Jolle said in a statement, "This special train service is being launched for the people of Karnataka to promote temple tourism and to promote PM Modi's 'Divya Kashi, Bhavya Kashi' campaign." Bharat Gaurav Scheme is implemented by the Ministry of Railways to showcase India's rich cultural heritage and historical places with trains operated by State government or private parties who will take ownership and finalise the itineraries.

NCB Bengaluru chief to replace Wankhede

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

DIRECTOR, Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), Bengaluru zonal unit Amit Ghawate has replaced NCB, Mumbai chief Sameer Wankhede, who was recently pulled up for shoddy investigation in Bollywood superstar Shahrukh Khan's son Aryan's drugs-on-cruise case. Wankhede has been transferred to the Directorate General of Taxpayers Services in Chennai. Ghawate, an Indian Revenue Service officer of 2008 batch, had joined as zonal director, Bengaluru, NCB in June 2020. The Bengaluru zonal unit covers three other states - Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Kerala.

Zonal Director, NCB, Chennai, P Aravindan – an Indian Police Service (IPS) officer of 2010 batch will now head Bengaluru, NCB besides having jurisdiction over Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Pondicherry and Lakshadweep. Under Ghawate's supervision, NCB, BZU had busted several drug syndicates. One such drug bust in August 2020 had resulted in thearrest of Bineesh Kodiyeri, the son of CPI(M)'s Kerala secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Bengaluru for his alleged financial dealings with Mohammed Anoop, who was arrested in August by the NCB, Bengaluru under the Narcotic Drugs & Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act.

The NCB, BZU probe had also led the Bengaluru city police to crack down on alleged Sandalwood drug links in September 2020 and the arrest of some prominent Sandalwood actors, event managers and Aditya Alva – brother-in-law of Vivek Oberoi in the case. Ghawate was part of the team, which had initially probed Rhea Chakraborty's role in actor Sushant Singh Rajput's death by suicide in June 2020.

TIME TO COME DOWN HEAVILY ON DIGITAL LOAN SHARKS

The unfortunate death by suicide of a Mumbai resident three weeks ago after he was harassed by digital, app-based lenders has sparked a spate of criminal complaints and FIRs. The last few months have seen an exponential growth of digital loan sharks who have been ensnaring thousands of innocent consumers in need of small loans. With a simple click on a link sent on the smartphone, the loan amount is transferred to the consumer. But this is at the cost of usurious rates of interest up to 50% a year, and after having shared one's bank and phone data with the scamsters. Within days of a default, the customer, his family and friends are bombarded with morphed images and threats. Hundreds have been ruined, and scores have taken their own lives.

It is therefore welcome that the cyber police has initiated serious action against this growing menace. The Mumbai police have put together a list of more than 100 loan apps for blocking by CERT-in, the national nodal agency that deals with computer security. Google Play Store has till last year removed 205 such unauthorised lending entities. The RBI has identified over 600 illegal sites. Except for a handful of digital lenders like PayMeIndia, Dhani and IndiaLends, most of the digital lenders are illegal because they are not registered as banking or non-banking finance companies (NBFCs).

The issue of 'instant loan' sharks operating without accountability needs to be quickly nipped in the bud. They have cashed in on the post-pandemic situation of huge job losses and the urgent need of funds. The RBI is proposing a new law on unauthorised digital lending, and a self-regulatory mechanism for legitimate lenders. The central bank has also been trying to 'educate' consumers by sending out advisories. However, the need of millions of borrowers is so desperate that only stringent policing and severe punishment will serve as deterrents. It has also exposed the weak credit pipeline of our regular banking system. The lack of easy access to loans is pushing people to clutch at desperate straws. While safeguarding business interests, banks and the finance ministry will have to rework lending policies to make them more people-oriented.

POLITICIANS PREFER A MUTE MEDIA

The Tamil Nadu leader of a national party recently courted controversy by accusing a reporter of accepting money from the ruling party in the state when the reporter sought to ask him a question. Each time the reporter tried to ask his question, the leader increased the "rate" the ruling party would "pay" him for his "services". This is just one way in which journalists can be publicly silenced or have their credibility eroded at a time when fake news and social media fan the flames of hate and ignorance. But the problem is not limited to one leader or party. Members and supporters of all parties, including the ruling DMK in TN, attack journalists criticising their leaders or governments as "paid media", "presstitutes", "sanghis", "propagandists" and so on.

While it cannot be denied that paid news is an actual phenomenon and biased coverage a reality, the willingness of political parties and leaders to resort to easily tarring the entirety of the fourth estate with the same brush, rather than answer a few questions or accept criticism, is cause for grave concern. According to the 2022 edition of the Press Freedom Index of the Reporters Without Borders, India is now ranked lowest, at 150, having slipped eight spots in the past year. The report cites the economic constraints of the media, limited legal protections, lack of safety and diversity along with a fraught political landscape. Targeting reporters, especially women, and those belonging to marginalised communities, by their caste, religion and perceived political affiliations is a daily affair on social media, where most journalists are expected to maintain a presence. The targeting, which can have a chilling effect on speech and reportage even when performed by nameless party supporters online, only worsens when backed by party leaders, ministers and others in positions of responsibilities. While all political parties claim to value a healthy democracy, this targeting undermines their lofty statements and suggests they would much rather prefer a maimed one, with a media largely silent when not cheering their achievements. If not, they would take questions, treat reporters with respect and accept valid criticism graciously, as a means of doing better.

States need to be given the right to modify the SGST within a narrow band. Such flexibility to states would in no way adversely affect the functioning of the National GST

APEX COURT'S GST JUDGMENT AND FISCAL FEDERALISM

T M THOMAS ISAAC
Former Finance Minister of Kerala

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The judgment of the Supreme Court on GST could not have come at a more opportune moment. The scepticism over the new tax system had been snowballing to the point where a former Union finance minister, known for his commitment to GST, even feared that the time might come to script an elegy for the Indian GST.

Many veterans of the GST Council have openly complained about the manner in which the Council's business was transacted. The new experiment in federal taxation has proved to be a bitter pill for the states. The SC observations provide an opportunity to revisit the GST from the perspective of fiscal federalism.

The Supreme Court judgment that the imposition of IGST on freight charges of CIF imports is ultra vires has been widely accepted. But its observations on the nature and functioning of the GST Council have drawn divergent responses. While opposition-ruled states have welcomed them as historic, the Union government has taken the stand that what was so obvious has only been reiterated and reinforced by the SC. The key observations of the apex court related to fiscal federalism are the following:

i) As framed by the Constitution, the GST Council is only a recommendatory body. It is not binding on the Union and the states. GST also does not abridge the supremacy of the legislative bodies.

ii) Both Parliament and state Assemblies have concurrent powers to legislate on GST. There is no repugnancy clause in the constitutional amendment and therefore, both the Centre and states have simultaneous legislative power.

iii) Indian federalism is a dialogue between cooperative and uncooperative federalism where the federal units are at liberty to use different means of persuasion—ranging from collaboration to contestation.

The Union government's stand is that the verdict in no way is going to impair the GST Council's current manner of functioning. But the preponderant opinion is that the functioning of the GST Council is no longer going to continue in the same way. The states will be emboldened to challenge attempts to steamroll the Council's decisions.

The SC judgment provides an appropriate occasion for dialogue on several issues surrounding GST—this is in the true spirit of cooperative federalism. The minimum conciliatory gesture that the Union government can do to facilitate such a discussion is to extend the GST compensation period so that the disruption of state finances is averted.

The GST revenues have not been buoyant for a variety of reasons—the haphazard manner in which the rates were brought down when elections were around the corner, the delays in the E-WayBill system, setting up of an IT backbone and even midway changes in the tax design. As a result, most of the states are facing a precipitous fall in revenue once compensation ends. At a time of economic recovery, a squeeze on state government expenditure should be avoided.

The compensation is not drawn from the Union Budget but from a special fund collected by taxing sin goods and a few super-luxury items. There is no loss whatsoever for the Union government. So, one cannot understand why the Central government is opposing such a demand.

The judgment, whatever be the thinking of the Union government, has opened up a host of issues that have been considered buried deep. The constitutional amendment has only created a broad framework for the introduction of GST in the country. Within that constitutional framework, it is still an open question whether we can have a GST that is more responsive to the concerns of the states and the people.

> The current corporate-led clamour for merging the present GST rate structure into a smaller number, if not one single rate, ignores the poverty and inequality that characterise our society. The ideal of equity should be considered at least as important as the ease of doing business

The most important issue to be considered is whether the states can have the right to modify State GST rates. GST can be viewed as an extension of the VAT principle to the national scale. Though VAT had introduced uniform tax rates throughout India, in practice, there existed minor variations between states. It was the general understanding during the early discussions of GST at the Empowered Committee of State Finance Ministers that this flexibility would be carried into the GST.

The states need to be given the right to modify the SGST within a narrow band to introduce some level of federal flexibility into the GST. In the absence of the repugnancy clause there is nothing in the law to prevent a state government from exercising this right.

Providing such flexibility to states would in no way adversely affect the functioning of the National GST. i.e. Central GST and Integrated GST on interstate trade. The tax would remain perfectly VATable, or, in other words, there would not be any hindrance to the input credit chain across the nation.

We have a concrete experience of this in Kerala. After the 2018 floods, 1% additional cess was permitted to be levied on SGST within the state. For two years, the system of higher SGST in Kerala functioned smoothly. In the background of the SC judgment, why is this limited autonomy not being considered for the states?

The current corporate-led clamour for merging the present GST rate structure into a smaller number, if not one single rate, ignores the poverty and inequality that characterise our society. The rates on consumer durables and urban consumer products were the ones that saw the sharpest decline with the introduction of GST. It is these products that would further gain if the demand for a maximum ceiling rate of 18% is accepted. Raising the rates in the lowest band is also discussed. Such a rationalisation of tax would remove even the semblance of progressivity in GST.

With the introduction of GST, the plethora of commodity taxes which varied from state to state, and the central excise and service taxes, were subsumed into GST. Therefore, the problem of multiplicity of rates is exaggerated. The ideal of equity should be considered at least as important as the ease of doing business. Excess simplification is the anathema of fairness.

Finally, the institution of the GST Council needs to be revisited. The recent events underline the importance of re-evaluating the institutional framework and practices of the GST Council.

QUAD & THE INDO-PACIFIC ECONOMIC FRAMEWORK

SHANKARI SUNDARARAMAN
Professor at School of International Studies, JNU, New Delhi

ASIAN AXIS

Close on the heels of the US-ASEAN summit that took place last month, President Joe Biden's visit to two of his country's most significant allies in East Asia last week set the tone for furthering the Indo-Pacific strategy of his administration—a key priority for America. The visits to both South Korea and Japan are critical, even as tensions in East Asia are an important indicator of the unabated US-China rivalry and its impact on the immediate region.

The visit to Seoul looked at several key areas such as deepening military ties between the two countries and enhancing initiatives on resilient supply chains. It also focused on North Korea, a critical priority in the bilateral ties. The question of enhancing credible deterrence against an increasingly belligerent North Korea remains a key priority for the US insofar as the security of the Korean peninsula is concerned. An important indicator of this has been the missile tests in North Korea immediately after the Biden visit, reiterating Seoul's importance in Indo-Pacific security.

Similarly, the visit to Japan needs to be viewed from two angles. Bilaterally, the Biden-Kishida Summit signifies a sustained focus on increasing Japan's defence budget and boosting its own capabilities. While the discussions on the Japanese approach to becoming a 'normal' state is not new, its defence capabilities have to be revamped to address the new threats to its security, both regionally and to its allies, globally. By looking at strengthening Japanese capabilities externally, the visit further asserted the importance of US-Japan ties as a core bilateral plank in the regional security architecture.

At the multilateral level, the Japan visit saw the second in-person summit of Quad leaders, even as the group began to show greater institutionalisation. As opposed to the last Quad meeting that led to some differences on issues relating to the Ukraine crisis, this summit saw more willingness to accommodate the differences of the member countries, while forging a more practical approach to the shared convergences among them. The Joint Statement of the Quad leaders meeting continued to reiterate the group's agenda as a "force for good", highlighting the significance of the normative order and the importance of international law, and recognising both sovereignty and territorial integrity as core principles of interstate behaviour. While there is a clear mention on the differing perspectives with regards to the Ukraine crisis, the core issue of how this affects the Indo-Pacific is evident, even as joint exercises carried out by China and Russia took place when the Biden visit was drawing to a conclusion. This clearly emphasises how great power relations in the region are being reshaped with China-Russia ties impacting the future of the global order. The relevance of the Quad as a mechanism in the context of the Indo-Pacific is best understood by recognising that China and Russia are shifting the rules of the normative order unilaterally, making the group that much more relevant from a regional perspective.

> Unlike the RCEP, the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework is not an FTA, but it provides a carte blanche to the member countries to choose what best suits their needs from the four pillars. So there is a huge manoeuvring space within its parameters, which finds compatibility with the members of the ASEAN

The most significant outcome of the Quad meeting was the unveiling of the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework (IPEF), a critical step in trying to evolve a rules-based trading order that is inclusive and open to all the member states in the region. It is this part of the deliberations that brings in the ASEAN states and other countries into the framework of the IPEF's negotiations on trade matters.

While several observers have highlighted the IPEF as a Quad-plus initiative, this needs to be viewed from a distinct perspective—as being tangentially unique from the Quad itself. While initiatives like the Quad and even the AUKUS in recent times have been looked at more from the perspective of enhancing security-driven aspects, the IPEF brings in a clear economic dimension that makes it relevant to the ASEAN states in particular. The ASEAN Outlook on the Indo-Pacific (AOIP) reiterates the importance of an economically open region. This is where the IPEF meets the agenda of the AOIP, which is why the ASEAN is on board. The IPEF focus remains solely on issues of trade practices—it consists of four pillars covering supply chain resilience, digital economy rules, provisions for enhancing infrastructure and clean energy, and non-corrupt taxation processes.

The IPEF's relevance evolves from the practices of other countries where trade has been used as a means for revenge. China's punitive economic measures against nations like Australia and its economic sanctions backlash after South Korea's THAAD controversy are clear examples. The use of trade as a punitive measure is a critical factor that threatens the smaller regional states from taking a concerted stand against the unilateral actions of China regionally. An effort to balance trade relations across a wider spectrum and to evolve mechanisms for greater and more open participation is at the core of the IPEF. Among ASEAN states, the countries that are left out are Myanmar, Laos and Cambodia, while the remaining seven have come on board. Unlike the CPTPP or the RCEP, the IPEF is not an FTA, but it provides a carte blanche to the member countries to choose what best suits their needs from the four pillars. So, there is a huge manoeuvring space within its parameters, which finds compatibility with the members of the ASEAN. While the verdict on the IPEF is still pending, it is undoubtedly an incremental step in the move towards a regional economic framework.

Too many fake notes

It is disheartening to read that according to the RBI's annual report, there has been more than a two-fold increase in the number of fake ₹500 notes (₹500 is the most faked note; RBI to introduce new security features, May 31). Owing to the pandemic, the culprits may have printed counterfeit currency and distributed it to the section that was in the grip of poverty. This has brought to light the economic situation of the country. Even after so many technological advancements, our authorities have not printed a currency that cannot be counterfeited. Only the tax-evading rich seem to hoard the ₹2,000 currency notes, which are sparsely available in the wallet of the common man, and ATMs give only ₹500 notes. Perhaps ₹1,000 notes should be printed again in a foolproof manner to ease the citizens' stress.

Wolf in sheep's clothing

As you sow, so you reap. The adage proved true in the case of Yasin Malik, who was sentenced to life imprisonment recently (Payback time for Yasin Malik's past sins in Kashmir, May 30). Terrorism or separatism in a democratic country like India cannot be accepted at any cost. Malik's Gandhian mask did not do him any good. The Mahatma stood for non-violence and Malik's attempt to invoke him only reminded us of a wolf in sheep's clothing. Whether Rubaiya Sayeed testifies or not, his fate is sealed. The sooner such elements put down arms and join the mainstream as law-abiding citizens, the better for all.

Why should people suffer?

The ongoing Russia-Ukraine war has led to a lot of destruction—human lives, nature, infrastructure, all have been affected. The rivalry is between the politicians and leaders of the two nations. Why should civilians suffer?

Don't play politics

Literary figures want Karnataka CM Bommai to remove the chairman of the textbook revision committee, Rohith Chakrathirtha, from the post. The committee made some changes to social science and Kannada textbooks of Class 10. The chairman clarified that the allegations that a few chapters based on some personalities were removed were not true. However, he has justified the inclusion of new chapters that were added. While the BJP supported this move, the Congress opposed it. Playing politics is the national sport of India. Instead of involving mutts and literary figures, the state government should take a tough stand on it.

New India can match any power: PM

Modi pitches himself as Pradhan Sevak, says politics of corruption replaced with service

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ Shimla

A day after the BJP-led government completed eight years in office, Prime Minister Modi chose poll-bound Himachal Pradesh to declare that a "new India" was on the move, matching any world power.

"The days of appeasement, discrimination, corruption, nepotism and dynastic politics are over. India is not being identified as weak and has the ability to measure up to any challenge," said Modi, asserting that India is one of the fastest growing economies of the world.

The Prime Minister asked people to keep in mind the state of affairs in the country prior to 2014, the year when the BJP came to power.

"Corruption was a part of the system in the previous non-BJP governments. Today, we have politics of development, 'seva' (service), sushasan (good governance) and 'garib kalyan' (welfare of the poor). This has changed the meaning of government in eight years," he said.

Re-introducing himself as the 'Pradhan-Sevak' of the people, the PM said he considered himself a family member of the 140 crore people of the country.

"Only when I have to sign files, I do it with the responsibility of the Prime Minister. As soon as that moment passes, I no longer remain the PM", Modi said.

"My life is dedicated to the nation, to the welfare, honour, happiness and safety for everyone", he said.

The previous non-BJP governments, instead of fighting corruption, had succumbed to it. "We have zero tolerance against crime and corruption. Now the government is remembered for development and surgical strikes," he said.

The government's priority was to give permanent solutions to the so-called permanent problems. "The government's direct benefit scheme has put an end to corruption and pilferage of money. As many as 9 crore bogus names have been removed from the benefits rolls of government schemes", the Prime Minister said.

Modi lauds Jairam, silent on Thakur

Shimla: Putting an end to speculations over change of face for upcoming assembly elections, PM Narendra Modi on Tuesday dropped an ample hints on the continuation of Chief Minister Jairam Thakur .The PM took almost everyone by surprise when he lauded the Himachal CM calling 'mitra' (friend) and crediting him for development in the state. "Any scheme is successful only when its benefits reach the common people without discrimination and favoritism.And hardworking CM has ensured all this," the PM said. Intriguingly, the PM did not even mentioned Anuraag Thakur while addressing from the stage, though Thakur continued accompanying him from the helipad to the venue.

India sends another fuel consignment of 40K MT to Lanka

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

IN line with its efforts to support Sri Lanka, which is reeling under its worst ever economic crisis, India has delivered another consignment of 40,000 metric tons (MT) of diesel, which reached Colombo last night. Sri Lanka has been rationing its supplies of petrol and diesel due to an acute shortage, which is creating chaos at fuel stations.

India has been trying to pitch in with relief supplies to areas like Jaffna too, which has been aided by the Tamil Nadu government after seeking nod from the central government. A day before, India had sent supplies to Jaffna, which would have benefitted close to 1 lakh families.

"Distribution of milk powder and rice was done in presence of Indian and Sri Lankan officials. This would cover over half the households in Jaffna. This is a part of assistance from Tamil Nadu wherein 40,000 MT of rice and 500 MT of milk powder was distributed," the Indian High Commission stated.

Sri Lanka's High Commissioner to India Milinda Moragoda had recently met Finance Minister Nirmala Sitaraman, apparently to seek another credit line of $500 million for fuel imports. Moragoda also thanked India for putting in a request on their behalf for support to the IMF.

In line with its 'Neighbourhood First' policy, the Indian government has already extended $3.5 billion worth of credit to Sri Lanka this year alone to help the country deal with the current situation.

The two countries had signed a US $500 million Line of Credit Agreement for the purchase of petroleum products on February 2, which has provided a lifeline to the crisis-hit island nation. A total of close to 400,000 MT of various types of fuel had been delivered with Indian assistance in March and April.

India, China agree to hold next round of LAC talks soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA and China on Tuesday agreed to hold the next round of the Senior Commanders' meeting at an early date to achieve complete disengagement from all friction points in eastern Ladakh to create conditions for the restoration of normalcy in bilateral ties.

The decision was taken at the 24th meeting of the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination (WMCC) on the India-China Border Affairs. However, there was no concrete forward movement during the virtual talks on Tuesday to resolve the over two-year-old standoff in eastern Ladakh.

The Ministry of External Affairs said the two sides reviewed the situation along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in the Western Sector of India-China border areas and agreed to hold the next round of the Senior Commanders' meeting "at an early date".

The previous meeting under the framework of the WMCC had taken place in November while the 15th round of military dialogue was held on March 11. The two sides exchanged views on the current situation along the LAC in Eastern Ladakh, the MEA said.

The meeting on the lingering row on Tuesday was the first one after Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi visited India in March. The Indian delegation was led by Additional Secretary (East Asia) from the MEA and the Chinese side by DG of Boundary and Oceanic Development of China's Foreign Ministry.

"They agreed that as instructed by the two foreign ministers, both sides should continue the discussions through diplomatic and military channels to resolve the remaining issues along the LAC at the earliest," the MEA said.

They agreed to hold the next round of the Senior Commanders meeting at an early date to achieve complete disengagement from all friction points along the LAC, it added.

RS polls: 'Independent' media barons muddy Cong waters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Jaipur

TWO media barons — Subhash Chandra of Zee from Rajasthan and Kartikeya Sharma of NewsX from Haryana — entered the fray for the Rajya Sabha as independent candidates on the last day of filing nominations, muddying the waters for the Congress.

Given the disquiet in the Rajasthan Congress over nomination of 'outsiders' and also in Haryana, where an upset party MLA Kuldeep Bishnoi has been meeting BJP leaders, the entry of the two Independents could tilt the contest in their favour.

The Congress expected to win 10 RS seats in the June 10 elections, but now it could end up losing two seats if cross-voting takes place in Haryana or Independents decide to vote for Chandra in Rajasthan.

Of the four RS seats up for grabs in Rajasthan, the Congress can comfortably win two while BJP can win one. With Chandra's entry, a contest is likely for the fourth seat where the Congress has fielded Pramod Tiwari. With Chandra believed to have the BJP's backing, a stung Congress reacted sharply. "They know they cannot win but they are trying to fulfill their dreams through horse-trading. They have planned this nomination which is against the traditions of Rajasthan," said Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot.

Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot with Congress candidates for RS elections | PTI

The Rajasthan assembly has 200 seats and a candidate needs 41 votes to win. The Congress claims it will manage 123 votes (required to win three seats) while the BJP, having 71 MLAs, can win only one. It will need 11 more votes to win a second seat and is trying to lure some Independents and disgruntled Congress MLAs to support Chandra's candidature.

There are two MLAs from Bhartiya Tribal Party and three MLAs from Hanuman Beniwal's Rashtriya Loktantrik Party. Both are unlikely to vote for the BJP but can support Chandra.

In the 90-member Haryana assembly, a candidate requires 31 votes to win. While the BJP will comfortably win one seat, there is contest on the second seat. The Congress, which has fielded Ajay Maken, has only 31 MLAs and cross-voting by even a single MLA could spell trouble for him.

Anand Sharma denies buzz of decamping to BJP

NEW DELHI: Congress leader Anand Sharma on Tuesday denied the buzz of his joining the BJP as "political mischief" and dismissed reports of his scheduled meeting with J P Nadda. There were reports that the Congress veteran may become the latest to switch over to the saffron camp after being snubbed by the GOP for RS nomination. Sharma is part of the G23 that has questioned the leadership and sought organisational revamp in the party. Sharma and Ghulam Nabi Azad both failed to get tickets. Among the retiring MPs, only Jairam Ramesh, P Chidambaram and Vivek Tankha were renominated.

BJP nominates 2 women in MP with eye on Gujarat

Bhopal: Knowing well that it's going to sail through with consummate ease on two out of the three Rajya Sabha seats in Madhya Pradesh, the BJP has attempted to strike caste and women balance on the vacant seats, with an eye on triumph in future poll battles of MP and neighbouring Gujarat. Both the women candidates, state party general secretary Kavita Patidar and surprise choice, the three-time Jabalpur municipal councilor Sumitra Valmiki, filed their nominations for the biennial polls to the upper house of the parliament in Bhopal on Tuesday.

Met office betters monsoon forecast from 99% to 103%

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THERE'S good news for the agri sector. The monsoon rainfall is likely to be above normal for rainfed agriculture regions, bringing a big relief keeping in mind high inflation and country agriculture driven economy.

Presenting its second stage long-range forecast for monsoon on Tuesday, the India Meteorological Department upgraded the forecast for rainfall during June-September season from an earlier 99 per cent average to 103 per cent.

Monsoon rainfall in India is likely to be above normal in central India (over 106% of LPA), and southern peninsula (over 106% of LPA). It is likely to be normal over northeast India (96-106% of LPA) and northwest India (96-106% of LPA). The LPA (Long Period Average) is 87 mm based on the average rainfor the 1971-2020 period.

"The southwest monsoon seasonal rainfall over the monsoon core zone, which consists of most of the rainfed agriculture regions is most also likely to be above normal at over 106% of LPA," it said.

"We have increased the quantum of rainfall likely to be received during monsoon because projections are showing that La Nina conditions will continue till the end of monsoon. La Nina conditions will support normal rains, which may be countered a little due to development of negative Indian Ocean Dipole conditions over the Indian Ocean," said M Mohapatra, DG, IMD.

Hope for better rain

- In April, the IMD had said the country would receive normal rainfall — 99 per cent of the long period average (LPA)
- Monsoon core zone - states that are dependent on rain for agriculture - is set to experience above normal rainfall at over 106 per cent of of long period average

GIFT

Children to get unique Ayushman health IDs

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

NEWBORN babies and children below 18 will soon get an Ayushman Bharat Health Account (ABHA), or health number, that will enable the parents to monitor their overall development.

The health IDs, referred to as Child ABHA, will also provide the children better access to preventive health services, according to R S Sharma, CEO of the National Health Authority (NHA), an autonomous body responsible for implementing the $1.43 billion public health insurance scheme Ayushman-Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojna (AB-PMJAY).

The Ayushman Bharat Digital Missio, a flagship scheme under NHA, is currently "designing the mechanisms for the creation" of the ABHA number for children below 18 years. ABDM aims to develop the backbone necessary to support the integrated digital health infrastructure of the country.

"It is being developed to enable the linkage and sharing of a child's health records, right from his/her birth," Sharma said. The aim is to help a parent or a guardian get the facility to create Child ABHA for their children by linking their own ABHA with it.

Sharma said this would empower them to access the child's health records digitally, monitor their development, and enable the creation of longitudinal health history. Child ABHA is envisioned to provide better access to preventive health services and track immunisation records, Sharma added.

Once the children gets the ID, they will also be able to get access to the central and state health schemes, if they are found to be lacking in any health development indices.

Over 22 crore ABHA numbers — a unique ID that uses a 14-digit identification number that allows users to share their health records digitally with hospitals, clinics, insurance providers and others — have been created so far.

Astra Mk I air-to-air missile inducted into IAF and Navy

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA has added the improved Astra Mk I air-to-air missile to its indigenously manufactured combat armoury. The missile's induction will cater to 'beyond visual range' (BVR) as well as close combat engagement capability of the forces along with reducing dependence on foreign sources.

The Defence Ministry said on Tuesday that a contract signed with Bharat Dynamics Ltd (BDL) for the supply of the missile and associated equipment for the IAF and Indian Navy envisaged a cost of ₹2,971 crore under the 'buy Indian' category.

The induction will provide a large standoff range to India's fighter aircraft that can neutralise the enemy aircraft without exposing itself to air defence measures, said the ministry.

The technology to manufacture missiles of this class indigenously was not available. This missile is technologically and economically superior to many such imported missile systems, the ministry said.

The missile has been indigenously designed and developed by Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) based on the requirements of the Indian Air Force. It is fully integrated into the Su 30 MK-I fighter aircraft. Other fighter jets too will have the matching integration in a phased manner. The Indian Navy will induct the missile on the MiG 29K fighter jet.

The transfer of technology from DRDO to BDL for the production of the missile "will create opportunities for several medium and small industries in aerospace technology for a period of at least 25 years," the ministry said.

Indus water talks conclude, Pak to host the next round

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE two-day 118th Permanent Indus Commission meeting between India and Pakistan concluded on Tuesday.

The Indus Commissioner of India, AK Pal, and his counterpart from Pakistan, Syed Muhammad Mehar Ali Shah, finalised and signed the annual report. During the talks, Pakistan reportedly sought information on flood data and expressed concerns over hydropower projects being developed by India over the shared rivers. The next round will be hosted in Pakistan.

"The meeting was held in a cordial manner. The Commission appreciated the commitment of the two sides to interact frequently and resolve issues through bilateral discussions under the Indus Water Treaty," the Ministry of External Affairs said.

This is the second Pakistani delegation to have come to India after Shehbaz Sharif came to power. Earlier, a delegation had came to attend an SCO meeting in Delhi.

MONKEY POX

Even one case will be an outbreak, say guidelines

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre has issues comprehensive guidelines to States and Union territories on managing monkey pox, which has spread to 23 countries, especially Europe and North America, although India has not reported any case so far.

The guidelines say that even one case of monkey pox is considered an outbreak. All the clinical specimens should be sent to the Indian Council of Medical Research-National Institute of Virology, Pune, routed through the Integrated Disease Surveillance Programme network of the states/UTs.

The ministry said the contacts of suspects should be monitored at least daily for the onset of signs or symptoms for a period of 21 days from the last contact with a patient.

The guidelines also include instructions on managing the disease, its epidemiology, contract tracing, clinical features, diagnosis, risk communication, prevention and control.

Preventive steps

- A person with a history of travel to affected countries in last 21 days and having an unexplained rash and showing signs of swollen lymph nodes, fever, headache, body aches will be a suspected case
- Clusters of infections and sources of conditions should be identified to isolate cases

Snubbed by JMM, Cong MLAs urge review of ties

Jharkhand Cong cadre seeks withdrawal of ministers from govt

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

STUNNED by the snub at the hands of Jharkhand Mukti Morcha (JMM), which sidelined the Congress and fielded its own candidate for the upcoming Rajya Sabha polls, leaders of the grand old party in the state have asked the central leadership to withdraw its four ministers from the government and extend support only from outside.

Congress MLAs expressed their anguish to state Congress in-charge Avinash Pandey in Ranchi on Tuesday, while he sought their opinion about the future of their alliance with the JMM. Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren had announced Mahua Maji as JMM's candidate for Rajya Sabha polls on Monday.

Congress insiders informed TNIE that barring four ministers — Alamgir Alam, Rameshwar Oraon, Banna Gupta and Mithlesh Thakur — almost every MLA was of the view that it is high time they withdraw their ministers from the Hemant Soren-led government.

"The way Congress is being treated in the alliance government, it is better we extend our support from outside only, rather than staying inside the government. Hemant Soren has no respect for its alliance partners and if he has taken us for granted then the Congress should extend support from outside," a senior Congress MLA said, requesting anonymity.

Several Congress members want the central leadership to take a final call regarding the alliance. "The way JMM announced its candidate for Rajya Sabha polls on its own, every worker of the Congress party sees it as an insult to our national president Sonia Gandhi. Even though it is an alliance government, there is no common minimum programme, no coordination committee, which proves that the actual spirit of alliance is missing here," Congress MLA Deepika Panday said, adding that she can say in her personal capacity that the JMM has touched the 'Laxman rekha' of 'Gathbandhan dharma' which cannot be tolerated at any cost.

Though Pandey said she doubts that Hemant Soren has entered into some secret deal with the BJP at the behest of which he took the decision, another MLA hinted at the possibility.

Jharkhand Congress in-charge Avinash Pandey, however, claimed that no such demand of withdrawing ministers has been made.

STANDING TOGETHER IN GRIEF

The mourning by hundreds of ardent fans of Moosewala was accentuated by a moving gesture from the singer's father. Expressing his love and gratitude towards the crowd, a crying Balkar Singh removed his turban and bowed to the huge crowd gathered to attend the funeral of his son. As per the post-mortem investigation, over two dozen bullets hit the singer, most of them in his chest and abdomen. A few of the bullets also hit the head and thighs, sources said.

Thousands attend Moosewala cremation in his native village

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

HUNDREDS of people turned up to attend the cremation of Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala on Tuesday. His grieving father Balkar Singh Sidhu took off his turban in a gesture of gratitude to his son's fans.

Moosewala's body lay in a flower-bedecked trolley pulled by his favourite tractor '5911.' As per tradition, his mother combed her son's hair for the last time while his father tied the turban. His fans and the public called it 'Veere di aakhri ride (last journey of brother)' in reference to the singer's last track titled 'The Last Ride' written and sung by him.

The song describes his last journey in his young age. After his death, the song has been widely shared by his followers on social media.

The cremation took place amid chants of 'Satnam Waheguru' in the three-and-a-half-acre land owned by the singer.

Earlier in the day, the family brought the singer's body home from the mortuary of Civil Hospital at Mansa, where a team of five doctors conducted his post-mortem. Following angry reactions of the singer's fans against the state government and the Police, a heavy police force was deployed outside his residence.

On the way to the last journey, the youths carrying photographs of Moosewala raised slogans 'Sidhu Moosewala amar rahe' (Long Live Sidhu Moosewala). A girl who came from Ludhiana to attend the singer's last rites said she had not eaten anything since Sunday. "Her father brought her here," said her friend.

A villager said he had met Moosewala on Saturday evening and the two chatted for hours as he was ploughing his fields with his new tractor.

Tax, fee waiver on CNG, battery-run vehicles

The state transport authorities has issued a notification waiving the motor vehicles tax, additional tax and registration fees for all CNG and battery-powered two-wheelers and cars from April 2022 to March 2024. Transport officials said the move was aimed at incentivising use of environment-friendly means of commute. This will encourage private and commercial vehicle operators to opt for electric and CNG-powered vehicles," said a transport official. Several automotive dealers in the state said the waiver for electric car owners would be between `15,000 and `20,000 for three years. The notification follows an announcement by the Bengal government in March.

Survey vessel rolls out of Garden Reach

A survey vessel, built by Garden Reach Shipbuilders and Engineers (GRESE) Ltd, was launched last week and it is said to be the second one in a series of four such ships for the Indian Navy to be launched in less than six months. The vessel was launched by Sarbani Dasgupta, wife of Vice Admiral Biswajit Dasgupta, commanding-in-chief, eastern naval command. GRESE has a vast experience in building survey ships for the Indian Navy. In the 80s, a series of six hydrographic survey vessels were delivered to the Indian Navy. The first ship, INS Sandhayak, served for 40 years and it was decommissioned in 2021 a few months before a new one was reborn in Kolkata in December last year – the first of this series.

Water treatment boost to benefit south parts

Water supply to southern Kolkata is likely to get a boost following an increase in daily production capacity of the Garden Reach water treatment plant. The city corporation has augmented the daily production capacity of the plant by 25 million gallons. Mayor Firhad Hakim inaugurated the enhanced production capacity. The plant at Garden Reach supplies potable water to residential neighbourhoods across southern Kolkata, parts of Kasba, Garden Reach, Behala and Jadavpur. Several pockets here suffer from water scarcity, especially in summer. Civic engineers said that with the increase in daily production, more potable water would be pushed into the distribution network.

No OBC reservation in Maharashtra local body elections

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

EVEN as all the political parties in the state had emphasised that no local body elections should take place without reservations for the Other Backward Classes (OBC), the Maharashtra State Election Commission (SEC) on Tuesday declared elections without the provision.

The SEC declared reservation of wards for women, Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and the general categories. Lottery for these reservations has been issued for the upcoming polls for Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation, Navi Mumbai Municipal Corporation, Vasai, Virar, Nasik, Kalyan, Dombivali, Thane, and Kolhapur, among others.

> The state-appointed commission has been collecting empirical data on OBC reservation that will be submitted in Supreme Court
> Uddhav Thackeray, Maharashtra Chief Minister

As per the lottery drawn, 118 of the total 236 Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) seats will be reserved for women. Eight of these seats are reserved for Scheduled Caste candidates, one seat for Scheduled Tribe candidates and 109 for the general category.

Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray said Maharashtra government is committed for OBC reservations in local body elections. "The state-appointed commission has been collecting the empirical data that will be submitted in Supreme Court, like Madhya Pradesh government did. Then the Supreme Court will also ask us to implement the OBC reservations in local body elections," he said.

NCP chief Sharad Pawar had also said recently that without the implementation of OBC reservations, no local body elections will take place in Maharashtra.

'WILL MIGRATE IF NOT SHIFTED FROM VALLEY'

Kashmiri Pandits on protest

The Pandit employees have been staging protests for over a fortnight in various parts of the Valley to press the government to relocate them outside the Valley. The relocation gained momentum after Rahul Bhat was shot dead by militants inside a tehsil office on May 12

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

THE migrant Kashmiri Pandit employees posted in the Valley under the PM's job package on Tuesday warned of mass migration if the government failed to relocate them to safer places outside the Valley within 24 hours.

The Pandit employees were protesting in Srinagar after militants on Tuesday shot dead a woman Hindu teacher from Samba district in the school premises at Gopalpora in Kulgam in south Kashmir. Chanting slogans 'Only solution relocation', 'We want justice' and 'Main apne desh mein dandit hu – mein Kashmiri Pandit hu (I am punished in my own country),' the protesters staged a sit-in outside the Army Cantonment and blocked vehicular movement for over an hour.

The protestors said the target killings were going on unabated. "These incidents have caused fear psychosis among the Pandit employees posted in the Valley," he said.

The Pandit employees have been staging protests for over a fortnight in the Valley to press the government to relocate them outside the Valley. The relocation gained momentum after Rahul Bhat was shot dead by militants inside a tehsil office in Chadoora in central Kashmir's Budgam district on May 12.

"Our delegation recently met Lt Governor Manoj Sinha and requested him to relocate us to outside Kashmir till the situation improves," said a protesting employee.

He said if the government failed to act within 24 hours, the community members would migrate en masse. "Only 1,250 Pandit employee families live in transit camps while 4,000 of us live in rented accommodation. Providing security to all is nearly impossible. The only solution is our mass migration," he said.

'Not much difference between Akhilesh, Rahul'

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

UTTAR Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath took a swipe in a lighter vein at leader of Opposition, Akhilesh Yadav, on the floor of the Assembly during his budget speech on Tuesday, saying there is not much difference between the Samajwadi Party chief and Congress leader Rahul Gandhi.

Meanwhile, the Assembly, before being adjourned sine die on Tuesday, passed the state budget worth over ₹6.15 lakh crore, the first of the second tenure of Yogi Adityanath as CM.

Yogi's jibe came a day after Akhilesh had claimed during his speech in the Assembly that once during his regime as chief minister, a child misidentified him as Rahul Gandhi while he was visiting a government primary school.

Amid peals of laughter in both the treasury and the opposition benches, Yogi said, "The leader of the Opposition said when he was CM, he visited a school and asked a child if he knew who he (Akhilesh) was. The child said he was Rahul Gandhi. Though kids are innocent, they're pure at heart and truthful. Whatever that child said, he must have said that after a lot of thought."

Yogi added in a lighter vein: "There is not much difference between the two of you. The only minor difference is that Rahul Gandhi criticises and condemns India in foreign countries, while you criticise Uttar Pradesh in other states."

However, the MLA from Karha, who was UP chief minister from 2012 to 2017, was attacking the Yogi government over the state of education in the state when he recalled the episode.

"UP is among the bottom four states in education sector on Niti Ayog's index. The government must be disappointed, we are too," Akhilesh said, acknowledging, however, that he too was responsible.

Gyanvapi row: Hindu plaintiffs seek probe into survey report leak

Lucknow: A day after the alleged leak of the Gyanvapi survey report, the Hindu plaintiffs filed a fresh petition in the Varanasi district court, seeking a probe into it while offering to return the "sealed copy" of the report by submitting another application. The plaintiffs said they had not "unsealed" the cover of the report given to them by the court on Monday. The court admitted the petition seeking a CBI probe into the alleged leak, but refused to accept the "sealed copy". The matter has been posted for July 4. The court had provided a copy of the survey report to the four plaintiffs after an undertaking by them that they would not leak it. Soon after that, some news channels started showing portions of it. Advocate Vishnu Shankar Jain, representing the Hindu side, asserted the plaintiffs had no role in the leak. (ENS)

NSCN-IM sticks to demand of separate flag, constitution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

AMID pressure on the Isak-Muivah faction of National Socialist Council of Nagalim (NSCN-IM) to go for the settlement of the "Naga political issue", the group on Tuesday stuck to its guns on the demand of a separate Naga flag and constitution, which has delayed the long-cherished settlement.

"How can we forfeit the Naga national flag and Naga constitution in the name of political solution? What belongs to us that defines our political identity can never be compromised for the sweet morsel in the name of Naga political settlement. We cannot be made a laughing stock before the world by succumbing to pressure or temptation," NSCN-IM chairman Q Tuccu said during their "national assembly".

The NSCN was formed in 1980 and split eight years later into NSCN-IM, led by Isak Chishi Swu and Muivah, and NSCN-K, with SS Khaplan at the helm. Most leaders of the NSCN-IM are Manipur Nagas while those of the NNPGs are mostly Nagas from Nagaland. The NNPGs are ready for settlement and they have already stated that the contentious issues could be pursued post-settlement.

Poll planning in full swing, Nadda to mobilise party cadre during MP visit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

NATIONAL BJP president JP Nadda is set to arrive on a two-day visit to the saffron party-ruled Madhya Pradesh on Wednesday.

While Nadda will address the state working committee meet of the party in Bhopal and meet party's booth-level workers in the state capital on Wednesday, he will travel to his wife's hometown, Jabalpur, in the evening to attend a series of organisational programmes on Thursday. Nadda is married to Mallika Banerjee, who is the daughter of Jayashree Banerjee, a BJP leader and ex-MP from Jabalpur.

In Bhopal, Nadda will also address the state party's executive meeting at the Motilal Nehru Stadium. The event will be attended by all big leaders from MP and cadre down to the level of division presidents.

In Jabalpur, he will meet the party's rank and file down to the booth-level workers. He will also visit the house of party's Scheduled Caste cell worker Ashish Ahirwar. Nadda will address the divisional core group meeting of the party, where functionaries from the tribal-dominated Mahakoshal region (seen as MP Congress chief and ex-CM Kamal Nath's stronghold) will be present. He will also address the Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha in Jabalpur.

Nadda's visit is being seen as the starting point by the party to mobilise its cadres for all the polls, spanning from upcoming local bodies polls to the Vidhan Sabha polls in 2023 and the Lok Sabha elections in 2024. The visit happens a few weeks after the tour of the state by other organisational leaders, including joint national general secretary (organisation) Shiv Prakash, national general secretary in-charge for MP, P Murlidhar Rao and national secretary and co in-charge Pankaja Munde.

BJP seizes on Kamal Nath's 'Hindu, but not fool' comment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

A controversy has erupted in Madhya Pradesh over state Congress president Kamal Nath's statement, "I'm proud to be a Hindu, but am not a fool."

The ex-chief minister of MP and former union minister made the statement while addressing a state-level meeting of advocates on Sunday.

"I say with pride that I'm a Hindu, but I'm not a fool. For us, religion isn't the basis of politics, but is linked to our sentiments. We don't make a political event out of religion, as it's an event only for our individual families," Nath said, recounting that when he got the Hanuman Temple housing a giant idol built in his constituency Chhindwara some years back, he did not publicise it as a political event.

However, Nath's statement was enough to give the BJP the ammunition to target the state Congress leadership.

"Neither the BJP nor the state government has ever considered him (Nath) a fool. Maybe it's due to internal issues within his party, that he has made the statement. All we can say is that the forum he chose to explain about being a Hindu wasn't appropriate. Be it Kamal Nath or Rahul Gandhi, they're just chunavi (election-related) Hindus who wear a janeyu or sport a tilak only at times of polls," state home minister Narottam Mishra said, calling Nath an "ichchadhari Hindu".

Russian military captures half of key eastern Ukrainian city

Mayor says Sievierodonetsk being destroyed ruthlessly, putting lives of 13k civilians in danger

SLOVIANSK

RUSSIAN forces in a "frenzied push" have seized half of the eastern Ukrainian city of Sievierodonetsk that is key to Moscow's efforts to quickly complete the capture of the industrial Donbas region, the mayor said on Tuesday.

"The city is essentially being destroyed ruthlessly block by block," Oleksandr Striuk said. He said heavy street fighting continues and artillery bombardments threaten the lives of the estimated 13,000 civilians still sheltering in the ruined city that once was home to more than 100,000. It's impossible to track civilian casualties amid the round-the-clock shelling, said the mayor, who believes that more than 1,500 residents have died of various causes since Russia's invasion of Ukraine in late February. Evacuation efforts from Sievierodonetsk have been halted because of shelling. "Civilians are dying from direct strikes, from fragmentation wounds and under the rubble of destroyed buildings, since most of the inhabitants are hiding in basements and shelters," Striuk said.

Electricity to the city has been cut off and people need water, food and medicine, the mayor said. Sievierodonetsk is important to Russian efforts to capture the Donbas before more Western arms arrive to bolster Ukraine's defence. Moscow-backed separatists already held territory in the region and have been fighting Ukrainian troops for eight years. Military analysts described the fight for Sievierodonetsk as part of a race against time for the Kremlin. The city is in an area that is the last pocket of Ukrainian government control in the Luhansk region. In his nightly video address, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said the situation in the Donbas remains "extremely difficult" as Russia has put its army's "maximum combat power" there. AP

Ukraine jails 2 Russians for shelling villages

Kyiv: Two Russian soldiers were sentenced to more than 11 years in jail on Tuesday after a Ukrainian court found them guilty of firing artillery at civilian areas. Alexander Bobykin and Alexander Ivanov, the servicemen convicted on Tuesday in the central region of Poltava, were on trial for violating norms and customs of warfare.

Mariupol port resumes business

A cargo ship bound for Russia has set sail from occupied Mariupol, less than two weeks after the last Ukrainian defenders of the strategic port city surrend-ered, the city's new rulers say. "Today 2,500 tonnes of sheet metal rolls left the port of Mariupol, the ship is heading to Rostov," Denis Pushilin, the pro-Kremlin separatist whose forces control the city writes on Telegram. Russia last week said it had de-mined the port as a first step to resuming shipments from the key exit point.

Bodies of all victims of plane crash retrieved

KATHMANDU

THE bodies of 22 people, including four Indians, killed in the plane crash in Nepal's mountainous Mustang district on Sunday, were brought to Kathmandu on Tuesday where the mortal remains would be handed over to their families after the post-mortem.

The Canadian-built turboprop Twin Otter 9N-AET plane was carrying four Indians, two Germans and 13 Nepali passengers, besides a three-member Nepali crew when it crashed minutes after taking off from the tourist city of Pokhara, officials said. Rescuers on Monday recovered 21 bodies from the wreckage site of the plane belonging to Tara Air. On Tuesday, the last body was also retrieved from the wreckage site.

Tara Air has identified the four Indian victims as Ashok Kumar Tripathy, his wife Vaibhavi Bandekar (Tripathy) and their children Dhanush and Ritika. The family was based in Thane city near Mumbai.

According to Tribhuvan International Airport (TIA) General Manager Prem Nath Thakur, the bodies of 10 victims were brought on Monday evening and the bodies of the remaining 12 were brought here by a Nepal Army helicopter on Tuesday. All the bodies have been sent to the Tribhuvan University Teaching Hospital for post-mortem examinations. The bodies will be handed to the families of the victims after the post-mortem, the official said.

The black box of the plane was also retrieved by a team of experienced international and national mountain guides from the crash site on Tuesday and it will be transported to Kathmandu.

The black box, also known as the cockpit voice recorder, records radio transmissions and other sounds in the cockpit, such as conversations between the pilots, and engine noises. PTI

Bankrupt Lanka hikes taxes to boost revenue

COLOMBO

CASH-STRAPPED Sri Lanka on Tuesday announced steep, across-the-board tax hikes to shore up revenue as the country suffers its worst economic downturn and seeks an IMF bailout. The value-added tax (VAT) applied on almost all goods and services was raised from 8to 12% with immediate effect, while corporate taxes were also hijked from 24 to 30%.

The personal income tax exemption threshold was lowered from 3.0 million rupees ($8,330) a year to 1.8 million rupees.

The increases were a rollback of the generous cuts ordered by President Gotabaya Rajapaksa soon after he won the November 2019 elections.

Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe, who is also the finance minister, said Rajapaksa's tax cuts cost the state some 800 billion rupees ($2.22 billion) annually and widened the budget deficit sharply. Wickremesinghe, an opposition legislator, was made PM this month. AFP

Toll in Brazil floods rises to 100: Officials

Recife (Brazil): The death toll from torrential rain that triggered floods and landslides in northeastern Brazil has risen to 100, officials said on Tuesday, as emergency workers searched for more victims. The force of the landslides ripped apart houses in neighborhoods including Jardim Monteverde, a poor community just outside the city of Recife. Rescue workers have found dozens of bodies buried in the mud that tore through the neighborhood on Saturday, and said they expect to find more.

Petroleum subsidy drops 91% in FY22

Government introduced LPG subsidy with direct benefit transfer (DBTL) or PAHAL scheme on June 1, 2013

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE government has managed to bring down the petroleum subsidy by 91% to ₹3,421 crore in 2021-22, data released by the Comptroller General of Accounts showed.

The government had spent ₹37,878 as a petroleum subsidy in 2020-21. The reason for this sharp reduction of subsidy in petroleum is that the government had stopped depositing the subsidy on LPG or cooking gas since June 2020 in the bank accounts of target beneficiaries.

As the crude price dropped in the international market in 2020 due to pandemic, this gave an opportunity to the government to cut down on subsidy. The decision, many believe, was taken without any official announcement. Ironically, when the price of crude oil shot up in the international market, the government didn't reinstate the subsidy.

Only recently, the government brought back a subsidy of ₹200 per gas cylinder (up to 12 cylinders) to over nine crore beneficiaries of the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana (PMUY).

Government's petroleum subsidy

New Delhi: The govt had spent ₹37,878 as a petroleum subsidy in 2020-21. The reason for this cut of subsidy in petroleum is that the government had stopped depositing LPG subsidy since June 2020 in bank accounts of target beneficiaries

The step, the government believes, will have a revenue implication of nearly ₹6,100 crore a year. The government introduced LPG subsidy with direct benefit transfer (DBTL) or PAHAL scheme on June 1, 2013. India has nearly 28 crore domestic LPG customers, of which over 8 crore come under the PMUY scheme. The government said nearly 1.08 crore consumers gave up their subsidy under the 'GiveItUP' campaign and stopped subsidies on LPG for people who reported taxable income of ₹10 lakh and above. The government's total subsidy bill in FY22 came down by 37% to ₹4.46 lakh crore compared to ₹7.1 lakh crore in the previous financial year. Food subsidy bill almost halved to ₹2.9 lakh crore in 2021-22 from ₹5.4 lakh crore in the previous year.

ASIANOMICS

JAPAN'S JOBLESS RATE FALLS TO 2.5% IN APRIL

Japan's unemployment rate fell to 2.5 percent in April, the third straight month it has declined, as the labor market showed signs of recovery after all coronavirus restrictions were lifted in late March, the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications said Tuesday. The seasonally adjusted jobless rate fell 0.1 percentage point from the previous month to match the level seen in March 2020, according to the ministry. The job availability ratio rose for the fourth consecutive month to 1.23, the Ministry of Health, Labor and Welfare said separately. The ratio means there were 123 job openings for every 100 job seekers. The number of job offers increased especially in the accommodation and food service sectors as businesses hired staff ahead of the Golden Week holidays through early May, according to the labor ministry. For the first time in three years, there were no recommended curbs on business activity during the major holiday period as COVID-19 cases declined and the quasi-state of emergency, which asked restaurants and bars to close earlier, was lifted. The total number of unemployed people in April declined 30,000 from the previous month to 1.8 million, down for the third consecutive month, data from the internal affairs ministry showed.

THAILAND

THAI ECONOMY IMPROVES IN MAY ON EASING COVID CURBS

Thailand's economic activity in May showed gradual improvement as concerns about the pandemic receded and restrictions eased, the central bank said on Tuesday. Issues to be monitored, however, include an increase in costs and prices, shortages of production parts and a recovery in the vital tourism sector, the Bank of Thailand (BOT) said. The Southeast Asian country has relaxed most of its restrictions as COVID infections decline and will lift curbs on nightlife from June to try to revive tourism. Getting tourists back is an important factor that would drive the economy, senior director Chayawadee Chai-Anant told a news conference. In March, the BOT forecast 2022 economic growth of 3.2% with 5.6 million foreign arrivals. It will review those projections at its next monetary policy meeting on June 8. In 2019, there were nearly 40 million foreign visitors. A weak baht is moving in line with regional currencies and is likely to remain volatile due to global uncertainty, Chayawadee said. Thailand's current account deficit of $3.4 billion in April was the biggest in nine years due to a smaller trade surplus and higher remittance of profits and dividends by foreign businesses.

CHINA

FALL IN CHINA'S FACTORY ACTIVITY SLOWS

China's factory activity fell at a slower pace in May as COVID-19 curbs in major manufacturing hubs eased, but movement controls continued to weigh on demand and production, raising concerns about economic growth in the second quarter. The official manufacturing purchasing managers' index (PMI) rose to 49.6 in May from 47.4 in April, the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) said on Tuesday. China's factory slowdown is affecting production lines in other major Asian economies with both Japan and South Korea reporting sharp declines in output. While the PMI hit a three-month high, it remained below the 50-point mark that separates contraction from growth for the third straight month. "It shows the impact of COVID-19 outbreaks in May have not fully ended, leaving the economic outlook grim since the second quarter in 2020," said Pang Ming, chief economist at Huaxing Securities. Declines in China's midstream and downstream production were larger than they were upstream and small firms were hit harder than large firms, Pang said. The sub-index for production rose to 49.7 in May from 44.4 in April while the new orders subindex rose to 48.2 from 42.6.

TAX ON DIGITAL GOODS

India to seek import duty on trade of digital goods

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CITING that the country is losing $500 million every year, the Indian government is planning to oppose any move to extend the non-imposition of import duty on online trade of digital goods in the 12th Ministerial Conference of the World Trade Organisation (WTO) in June.

The government on Tuesday said it will demand for removal of the moratorium on customs duty on transfer of digital goods like music and video downloads, video games, software, etc. Quoting estimates made by UNCTAD, commerce ministry officials have said India could be losing $500 million annually as it could not impose import duties on such goods.

A commerce ministry official said the decision to not impose customs duty on electronic transmission was taken by the WTO in 1998 when the digital transfer space was at its nascent stage. However, over the years due to technological advancement there has been a rapid rise in the online trade of digital goods. The Indian government, along with South Africa, in November ministerial conference had made joint submissions highlighting the adverse impact of the moratorium on developing countries and has suggested reconsideration of the demand by some members to make it permanent. As per the submission made by India and South Africa, of the $10 billion annual revenue loss suffered due to non-imposition of import duty on digital goods, 95% is borne by developing countries.

LIC made ₹42,000 crore in FY22 from equity market

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INSURANCE behemoth Life Insurance Corporation made a whopping ₹42,000 crore gains from selling its equity investments in FY22. The gains made this fiscal is 16.6% more than ₹36,000 crore gains made in FY21, managing director of LIC Raj Kumar said on Tuesday in a press briefing.

LIC invests nearly 25% of its assets under management (AUM) in the equity markets, while the remaining sum is invested in government bonds and other instruments. LIC's total AUM stands at ₹42 lakh crore. According to Kumar, they don't book profits in a single year, regardless of the gains in the equity markets but over a period of time as they have to issue bonuses to the policyholders. LIC's yields on the investment, however, witnessed a year-on-year slump from 8.69% in FY21 to 8.55% in FY22. According to Kumar, this is a good return in an otherwise depressed market.

Going forward, Kumar said they would be working to increase the share of non-participatory products in their portfolio to improve profitability and that the insurer would be launching only non-par products this year. In the LIC's product portfolio, 29% of new business came from non-par products even as only 7% of the policies sold were non-par in FY22. Kumar added that in the next five years LIC's value of new business margin will be on a par with private players.

The state-run insurer on Monday reported over a 17% drop in its net profit to ₹2,409 crore in Q4FY22. However, the company's net profit for the entire fiscal FY22 was ₹4,043 crore, up 39%. The quarterly result was not welcomed in the street as the recently listed stock fell over 3% to hit new closing low of Rs 811.50 a piece on the BSE. Since its discounted listing on May 17, the stock has fallen by 7.30%

Big companies trying to grab a slice of 'gig' pie

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

GONE are the days when gig workers were associated with just blue-collar jobs.

Of late, there has been an increasing demand from big companies for high-skilled gig workers. Large enterprises such as Tata, Infosys, and Britannia, among others, looking for high-skilled workers, are now increasingly trying to benefit from the evolving gig economy, primarily for two reasons - to cut costs and to access talent across locations.

They are using gig worker platforms to look for talents. Gig work platform Awign has grown 10-fold in the last 18 months in terms of topline and bottomline, according to Annanya Sarthak and Gurpreet Singh, co-founders of Awign. "A lot of large large enterprises have increased. Our average revenue per customer has grown close to 5x in the last 18 months," they said.

Some of the big companies and established start-ups are increasingly looking for gig work on the platform include Infosys, Tata, Wipro, Britannia, Ola, Fresh to Home.

Explaining the growing interest of large enterprises, they said, "About three years back, there used to be a lot of growth-stage customers that used to adopt gig. But in the past one-and-half years, 70% of our business is coming from large enterprises - either brick and mortar enterprises having a turnover of over 1,000 crore or scaled up growth companies like the Swiggy, Ola and Byjus, which have already established themselves as large enterprises and have a very predictable sort of planning or runway with them." According to them, these big enterprises are looking for gig work either in niche roles like a product manager, developer or for their assessment or proctoring operations. Less than 10% of workers on Awign are start-ups.

Another gig work marketplace Taskmo is also seeing more big enterprises moving towards gig work lately. "In the past one year alone we added 430-450 new task listings, 20% of which came from enterprises," said Prashant Janadri, co-founder, Taskmo. "This is a relatively new trend, which will take time to grow but we foresee the momentum picking up as companies look at flexi-hiring to rationalise their talent acquisition costs," said Janadri. "There is also a common misunderstanding that gigs are only for blue-collar jobs. Given the symbiotic benefits for both parties, across industries, companies are increasingly looking for gig workers for high-skilled roles."

ONGC to raise oil output to 21,701 MT by 2024-25

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OIL and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) on Tuesday said its crude oil production will increase from 19.54 million tonnes during the financial year 2021-22 to 19.88 million tonnes this financial year and 21.58 million tonnes in FY24.

In an investor presentation after the FY22 result, the oil retailer claimed the production will rise to 21,701 million tonnes in 2024-25 (FY25).

Similarly, ONGC, the largest producer of crude oil and natural gas in the country, said its gas output will rise from 20,907 billion cubic metersb (bcm) in 2021-22 to 21,097 billion cubic meters in current fiscal year and 24,387 billion cubic meters in the next. In FY26, the output power will reach 26,124 bcm. It is investing in discoveries in KG-DWN-98/2 in the Bay of Bengal to make the most of heavy lifting, while the Cluster-8 marginal fields in the western offshore will complement its production.

It is also carrying out the fourth phase of the reconstruction of the Mumbai High oil and gas fields, which will increase the recovery factor from the five-decade-old mature fields. Currently, India imports nearly 85% of its oil needs and its production from domestic fields declined this year. ONGC said it has intensified its exploration to find more reserves and aims to add nearly 1 000, 000 square kilometers of new exploration area annually until 2024-2025. It will invest ₹31,000 crore from 2022 to 2025 on exploration campaigns across the country. Its abroad production is seen to rise from 15 MMtoe to 40 MMtoe.

Telcos may hike tariff in next few months: Crisil

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM operators in India may resort to another round of tariff hike in the second half of the current fiscal, according to a report by Crisil's research wing.

The report also said that all three private telcos - Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea will close their FY23 with a revenue growth of 20-25%.

"Since players are expected to spend incrementally on network and regulatory capex in fiscal 2023, ARPU growth and tariff hikes could ease some pressure on their books. As a result, revenue of the top three players is expected to grow a robust 20-25% this fiscal. Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation, and amortisation) is seen expanding 180-220 bps for the year," reads the report. The report also suggested that growth in average revenue per user (ARPU) is essential for realising a healthy bottom line and sustaining profit growth. All these years, lower ARPU limits telcos' capacity to invest in network and spectrum, resulting in poor service offerings. In the fiscal 2021, the companies hiked tariffs, which rose their ARPU from 11% to ₹149. In fiscal 2022, ARPU growth slowed to 5%, driven by customer upgradations to 4G and the partial impact of tariff hikes taken in November 2021. Therefore, in fiscal 2023, Crisil expects ARPU should grow 15-20% due to the full-year impact of tariff hikes in fiscal 2022 and fiscal 2023 (anticipated in the second half). Last year, the three top telcos saw a 3% rise in number of active users by adding 2.90 crore subscribers to the tally. Reliance Jio saw its total subscriber base fall sharply between August 2021 and February 2022.

MSMEs, hit by COVID lockdowns, keen to migrate to cloud, say reports

Bengaluru: When pandemic struck and induced lockdowns across the country, many micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) were hit so badly that they started realising the significance of the cloud. A survey done by SAP India shows that the present generation is keen to migrate to the cloud. "About 70-75% of SMEs from across the country including small towns that we surveyed showed interest in moving to the cloud. They understand the real potential of IT and are open to new technologies," said Rajeev Singh, VP & Business Head - Midmarket & Emerging Business, SAP India. According to an EY-Nasscom report, four in every five enterprises are bullish on their cloud budget, and that cloud played a major role in helping them to sustain despite lockdowns. A Gartner report says SaaS (software-as-a-service) is the largest public cloud services market, as it is expected to reach $176.6 bn in end-user spending by the end of this year. ENS

ShareChat to raise $300 mn funding led by Google, Times and Temasek

Bengaluru: Mohalla Tech, ShareChat's parent company, is in advanced talks to raise nearly $300 million in a round led by Google, Times Group and Temasek Holdings. Sources aware of the development confirmed the same, and when the deal is finalised, it will value the firm at about $5 billion. ShareChat is yet to announce the deal officially, and an email sent to Mohalla Tech did not elicit any response. Alphabet's Google has already invested in another short video platform Josh. The tech giant together with Microsoft joined the $100 million investment round in VerSe Innovation, maker of Josh, at the end of 2020. It has also forged other alliances with Glance, DotPe and Open. Last year, Google said, "As we look ahead to 2022, we will continue to create meaningful, transformative, and longstanding relationships with Indian companies of all sizes and at different stages, and actively support their technology-driven missions." ENS

Insurance cost rise, airbags norms to hit small car, bike sales: Automakers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A day after two-wheeler manufacturer TVS Motor criticised government's decision to increase premium on third-party motor insurance, India's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) on Tuesday said that six airbags mandatory norm in passenger vehicles will adversely hit the already shrinking small car market.

The carmaker said the government's decision may even impact jobs in the auto sector, going ahead.

MSIL chairman RC Bhargava said the regulation would largely impact the cost-sensitive entry-level car segment - which has been facing headwinds and witnessing dwindling sales over the past three years - making it even more difficult for two-wheeler users to upgrade to small cars.

"So, the fear is that due to this (six airbags norm) the market will become smaller. The car manufacturing sector is important because it is a big creator of employment. When the car sells in the market it creates many jobs - drivers, maintenance, repairs, accessories etc," Bhargava told PTI.

Bhargava said he is not sure how much prices would go up but addition of extra airbags could be in the range of ₹20,000-25,000, which for a small car buyer is a lot of money. Selling prices of small cars has seen a significant hike in the past few years due to norms such as switching to BS-VI emission norms and hike in insurance premium.

Add to it, most automakers have implemented 3-4 price hikes in the past one year due to the rise in raw material prices. According to the government, the airbags are in need of the hour and it will ensure safety of passengers across all segments.

TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

(PUBLIC / CAUTION NOTICE)
IN THE MATTER OF CANCELLATION OF POWER OF ATTORNEY ISSUED IN FAVOUR OF THE FIRST OF THE PERSONS HEREIN BELOW NAMED - REG.

1. SHRI RAMANDEEP SINGH, S/O LATE TEJINDER SINGH, AGED ABOUT 51 YEARS, MOBILE No. 91 - 9845747761
2. SMT. NIRMALJEET KAUR, W/O LATE TEJINDER SINGH, AGED ABOUT 83 YEARS, MOBILE No. 91 - 98809 55455

BOTH RESIDING AT: NO. 12/10, UDANI LAY-OUT, CAMBRIDGE ROAD, ULSOOR, BENGALURU - 560 008.

Sir/Madam,

Under instructions from my client, Shri Prabjit Singh Syali, S/o Late Sarabjit Singh Syali, aged about 48 years, then residing at Unit 410-1450, Chestnut St., Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, V6J 3k3, now presently residing at Unit 135-16177, 83rd ave Surrey, BC, V4N 5T3, this Public notice/Caution Notice is issued as hereunder:

1. My client states and places on record, based on facts, that he jointly owns a Plot bearing No. A-16, situated at Tonk Road, Van Vihar Colony, Jaipur, measuring 300 (Three hundred) Square Yards along with his brother Shri Gurpreet Singh Syali, which is a vacant plot as on this day and date. My client further puts it across that the said plot was allotted to his father, Late Sarabjit Singh Syali, vide Allotment Letter dated: 23/06/1975, by Forest Employees' Co-operative Housing Society Ltd., along with possession certificate as well, embodied in the said Allotment letter, for valuable consideration. The said site was part and parcel of 'Van Vihar' colony formed by the society in question.
3. My client states that in the meanwhile, his father Shri Sarabjit Singh Syali, expired on 4th January, 1992, intestate, leaving behind him my client and his elder brother Shri Gurpreet Singh, to succeed to estate, which includes the Site hereinabove referred to and described as well. At some point of time, to be precise, sometime post his father's death, my client was sharing the address at No. 12/10, Udani Layout, Cambridge Road, Udani Lay-out, Ulsoor, Bangalore - 560 008, for his local place of residence as well as for the purposes of the postal address.
4. In the year 2007 my client assumed the citizen ship of Canada on 02/02/2007. My client states that as he had implicit faith in the parties hereinabove mentioned, that they would do harm or cause any miseries which would harm my client's interests, resulting in the appointment of the first of the persons herein above named, viz., SHRI RAMANDEEP SINGH, S/o Late Tejinder Singh, as his Power of attorney, to look after the property hereinabove, described, including sale of the property and other incidental acts. Accordingly, upon the consent and assent of the first of the said persons, my client proceeded to have the Power of Attorney, registered in the office of the Sub-Registrar, Bommanahalli, Bengaluru City District, vide registration Number, BNG(U) - BMH/463/2007-08, on 28/01/2008 and registered in Book No. 4, at BMH-4-00463-2007-08, and recorded in CD NO. BMHD 340, ON 28/01/2008. But the said Registered power of attorney was not an irrevocable one at all, and as the said document never ever could be interpreted as a document, which could invest the first of the persons, with unfettered and unhindered right to do anything with the property in question.
5. However, no sooner my client landed in Canada, did he come to know about the notorious and nefarious acts of the first of the persons hereinabove referred to, in trying to sell away the Jaipur Property, obviously without my client's knowledge, which was sometime in the year 2020. At the same time, my client sought for details of the behind the scene activities of the first of you, actively supported by the second of you. Taking liberty of the fact, that my client did not enjoy comfortable relationship with his brother Shri Gurpreet Singh Sayali, it is understood that on the sly, the first of the persons hereinabove named, tried to enter into an unholy relationship with complete strangers, a fact when it came to the notice of my client, he was severely warned by my client. My client states since he had lost faith in the first of the persons hereinabove named and as well the second of the persons, who actively instigated him to get into unholy transactions in respect of the property referred to above, and as you both had failed to infuse confidence in my client, he immediately demanded return of the said Power of Attorney from the possession of the first of the persons and in spite of his innumerable efforts, he was unable to do, due to his stubborn attitude to defraud my client at any cost. In spite of my client's efforts to have the registered Power of Attorney in original, returned unto him and so also to have the other important papers/documents, returned unto him, the first and the second of the persons hereinabove name, have assiduously, purely with the malafide intentions of harming my client and subjecting him to fraud, coupled with criminal breach of trust too have failed to comply with his legally and legitimately valid demands. The intention to retain them, by the first and the second persons, is illegal and illegitimate, acts purely meant to subject my client to harm and monetary loss, together with an intention to misappropriate his property as well, be it be movable or immovable in nature.
6. It is brought to the notice of the general public, that left without any other alternative, my client by legal notice dated: 14/02/2022, has terminated the Registered power of attorney dated registered in the office of the Sub-Registrar, Bommanahalli, Bengaluru City District, vide registration Number, BNG(U) - BMH/463/2007-08, dated: 28/01/2008 and registered in Book No. 4, at BMH-4-00463-2007-08, and recorded in CD NO. BMHD 340, ON 28/01/2008, in favour of the first of the persons hereinabove named. My client also further declares that all or any of the acts, IF done or executed by the first of the persons, viz., SHRI RAMANDEEP SINGH, S/O LATE TEJINDER SINGH, AGED ABOUT 51 YEARS, and residing at the address hereinabove mentioned, under or in pursuance of the aforesaid registered power of attorney dated: 28/01/2008, shall not be deemed to be the acts nor done in my client's name or on his behalf, and any acts done in the past by virtue of the said document, if done or caused to be done by the first of you, shall not be ratified if the same has been resorted to and if any, which if it has been done, does not enjoy the sanctity of approval of my client either, as the acts if any have not been brought to the notice or knowledge of my client. This act of revocation cum notice to that effect, has come into effect IMMEDIATELY ON THE DATE OF ISSUANCE OF THE NOTICE. However, it is brought once again to the notice of the General Public that my client, notwithstanding his demands contained in the legal notice referred to above does hereby and has hereby revoked the power of attorney duly registered in your favour, registered in the office of the sub-registrar, BOMMANAHALLI, BENGALURU CITY DISTRICT, VIDE REGISTRATION NUMBER, BNG(U) - BMH/463/2007-08, ON 28/01/2008 AND REGISTERED IN BOOK NO. 4, AT BMH-4-00463-2007-08, AND RECORDED IN CD NO. BMHD 340, ON 28/01/2008, in respect of the property detailed therein, more fully described in the body of this notice, forthwith without ratifications of your acts, actions or otherwise, either in the past, the present or the future, based on the said Power of Attorney, w.e.f the date of said notice. Hence the members of the public at large, are hereby warned NOT to get in touch with the said persons either in connection with the said property or in connection with any other transactions in any manner whatsoever. Dealing with the said persons in connection with the said property will be at the risk and peril of the said parties.

La Liga to complain to UEFA over Mbappe deal

La Liga president Javier Tebas said on Tuesday the Spanish league will send its formal complaint to UEFA in "one or two days" regarding Kylian Mbappe's new contract at Paris Saint-Germain. Mbappe rejected Real Madrid to sign a new three-year deal at PSG last week, prompting Tebas to say the agreement was an "insult to football" given the French club's financial losses.

Full strength teams for CWG hockey

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

BOTH the men's and women's teams will be pretty close to full strength at the upcoming Commonwealth Games in Birmingham. The initial plan was to send 'A' teams to that event as the calendar was loaded, including an Olympic qualifier in the form of the Asian Games. With the Asian Games indefinitely postponed, coaches of both teams — Graham Reid (men's) and Janneke Schopman (women's) — confirmed as much to this daily.

"It will be the best team that can be picked," Reid said. "That is what will happen at the end of the day. The Asian Games has been postponed so we will be trying everything we can to win the Commonwealth Games."

TUESDAY'S MATCHES
Oman 2-0 Indonesia, Malaysia 5-0 Japan, India 4-4 Korea.

WEDNESDAY'S MATCHES
Pakistan vs Bangladesh, India vs Japan, Malaysia vs Korea.

It's a bit more complicated for the women's team to pick the first-choice 18 as the World Cup finishes less than two weeks before the first match in Birmingham. However, Schopman sees the Commonwealth Games 'as less of a developmental tournament and more of a performance tournament'.

"All the core group are now available and up for selection," she said. "I think there maybe some changes in selection from the World Cup squad or there may not be."

Meanwhile, India's second-string side, in action at the Asia Cup in Jakarta, will face Japan in the bronze-medal match on Wednesday.

Post fracas, grappler Mohit out to prove a point

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EVEN before he could make his senior debut, the controversial bout during the Commonwealth Games (CWG) selection trials put a lot of unwanted spotlight on wrestler Mohit Grewal. The 125kg wrestler from Haryana's Bhiwani defeated Satender Malik 3-3 (on criteria because he scored the last point) in the final but what followed thereafter put him in the news for all wrong reasons. Not happy with the decision, Satender approached referee Jagbir Singh, who pronounced the verdict following a challenge, after the bout and a fight ensued between the two. The video of the fracas went viral dragging even Mohit in the unsavoury incident.

"I felt bad as comments were made that I won the bout in an unfair manner, which was not the case. Even the world body, United World Wrestling (UWW), recently justified the referee's decision," the 23-year-old Mohit told this newspaper. More than for himself, the wrestler felt bad for his parents, who were taunted and told that their son's win was not fair. "I stay here at the Virender Wrestling Academy in New Delhi so I was least subjected to such petty talks but my father Jagbir Grewal was told that his son had won the bout through unfair means. He sacrificed a lot for me and that (incident) affected him badly."

Mohit, however, feels a lengthy layoff of two years due to a knee injury has made him strong enough to undergo such trauma. "I was regularly competing in international events in the junior category and even bagged bronze in the 2018 Junior Asian Championships but the knee injury meant I had to stay home for the next two years (2019 and 2020). I suffered patellar tendinitis (an injury to the tendon connecting the knee-cap to the shin bone) and 70 per cent of my ligament got damaged. The pandemic prevented me from meeting doctors physically and I had to consult them online. It was only in 2021 that I returned to the academy where I started working on my rehabilitation after consulting Dr Dinshaw Pardiwala. For two months, I avoided kneeling down while training but now I have recovered fully. When you undergo such a period, it makes you strong and this has helped me in dealing with the recent issue," he said.

Interestingly, the bout during the CWG selection trials was not Mohit's first against Satender. The duo met in the semi-finals of the 2021 Senior National Championships in November. He beat his Haryana counterpart to enter the final where he lost to Shivraj of Maharashtra. Before that, he had won gold in the U-23 National Championships and also competed in the bronze medal play-off at the U-23 World Championships. "Decisions went against me quite a few times but I never resorted to such means. I still have a long way to go and hope to learn a lot by winning and losing at the international level."

Top athletes for Chennai senior event

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

SPARKS of brilliance and sprinkling of stars are expected to light up Chennai during the senior inter-state athletics competitions next week. The event would assume significance for those athletes trying to do well at the World Championships in Oregon and also for those trying to get into the India team for the Commonwealth Games. Needless to say, top athletes are expected to participate between June 10 and 14.

Top athletes barring Tokyo 2020 javelin champion Neeraj Chopra and 3000m steeplechase exponent Avinash Sable would be present. According to Athletics Federation of India president Adille Sumariwalla, top athletes who are training abroad would come back on time to participate at the inter-state championships. "They would be present for the nationals," he said.

According to the AFI chief, this would also be some kind of trials for the athletes. "We will have to see the fitness of athletes too and we will know that during the nationals," he said. "There are incidents in Olympics where athletes performed below their potential because of injury like Annu Rani, M Shreeshankar. We don't want to have a situation where athletes compete with injury."After the nationals, the AFI is planning to send the selected athletes abroad (Europe or US) for training and competition.

In a bid to increase participation, the AFI during its Annual General Meeting in Chandigarh on Sunday has decided to hold more nationals in its priority events like throws, jumps, 400m and race-walking.

Inaugural Women's IPL likely in March

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THE Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) is understood to have shortlisted two windows to host a franchise-model T20 league for women from 2023. It is understood that on the sidelines of the IPL play-offs, the BCCI had discussions with the stakeholders with March 2023 being looked at as an ideal window to host the tournament. If not, September is likely to be considered as another option.

Despite calls to start one over the last few years, based on the inputs received from former players and other stakeholders, the BCCI has been looking to start the new tournament in 2023. Recently, the BCCI conducted the Womens's T20 Challenge in Pune, where the matches received considerable stadium attendance.

Ever since the BCCI president Sourav Ganguly and secretary Jay Shah mentioned that a full-fledged tournament would begin next year, things have started to move.

FOR THOSE WITH A HEAD FOR HEIGHTS

A pedestrian suspension bridge that is the longest such construction in the world opened at a mountain resort in the Czech Republic last month. We take a look at some of the longest pedestrian suspension bridges in the world

SKY BRIDGE 721

Where: Dolni Morava, Czech Republic

Length: 721 metres

The 721-metre-long footbridge is built at an altitude of more than 1,100 metres above sea level. It connects two mountain ridges and hangs up to 95 metres above the valley below. The construction took two years and cost about $8.3 million. The bridge can hold up to 500 people at any one time and will close if the wind speeds reach 135 kph

AROUCA 516

Where: Arouca, Portugal

Length: 516 metres

This vertigo-inducing 516 metre-long footbridge is suspended across a river canyon in northern Portugal. Once you are on this bridge, it is probably best if you gird yourself before you look down to see the spine-tingling view of Paiva River flowing through a waterfall. The origin of Arouca 516, lies in Arouca municipality's decision in 2005 to create a Geopark to boost local tourists. The bridge cost $2.8 million to build. Children below the age of 6 are not allowed on it

CAPILANO SUSPENSION BRIDGE

Where: Vancouver, Canada

Length: 140 metres

Nestled amid the evergreen woods in North Vancouver is Capilano Suspension Bridge. The 140-metre long passage hangs 70 metres above the Capilano River. It was laid in 1889 by George Grant Mackay, a Scottish civil engineer and land developer. He had purchased 6,000 acres of land on either side of the Capilano River and wanted a bridge to link them. Today, it is one of Canada's biggest tourist attractions, welcoming over a million visitors each year. Such a high footfall isn't surprising given the beautiful views of the Capilano River Regional Park that the bridge affords. And if you see the bridge crowded, don't panic, for it can hold the weight of 70 full-grown elephants!

OLDEST BRIDGE
Caravan Bridge, in the city of Izmir, Turkey is the oldest bridge in the world

CHARLES KUONEN

Where: Randa, Switzerland

Length: 494 metres

A 494-metre suspension bridge made in just 10 weeks! The Charles Kuonen Suspension Bridge, built to replace an older bridge that was closed in 2010 after being damaged from falling rocks, spans the valley floor between the towns of Grachen and Zermatt. If you are travelling to Randa, walk over this steel bridge to catch breathtaking views of the Swiss Alps. But beware, it's just 65 centimetres wide

MISHIMA SKYWALK

Where: Mishima, Japan

Length: 400 metres

If you are visiting Japan and want to catch a good view of Mount Fuji, Hakone Seiroku Mishima Suspension Bridge is one of the places to be. This 400-metre passage, located in Japan's Shizuoka prefecture, is one of the longest suspension bridges

HIGHLINE 179

Where: Reutte, Austria

Length: 406 metres

In 1998, Armin Walch, an Austrian architect, thought of building a suspension bridge to connect Ehrenberg Castle with Fort Claudia. The medieval castle and the fort are separated by a deep gorge in the Austrian Alps. However, he had to wait until 2012 to find someone who could finance his dream project

In November 2014, the bridge opened to the public. A month later, it entered the Guinness Book of Records as the "longest pedestrian bridge in the Tibet style". This 406-metre-long bridge sits 370 metres above the valley floor and has four supporting cables, each with a diameter of 60 mm. It can hold 500 people at one time even while braving strong winds

EU deal done to ban the import of Russian crude

ENERGY

BRUSSELS: In the most significant effort yet to punish Russia for its war in Ukraine, the European Union agreed to ban the overwhelming majority of Russian oil imports after tense negotiations that tested how far the bloc is willing to go to ostracise Moscow.

From the moment Russia invaded on February 24, the West has sought to make Moscow pay economically for its war. But targeting the lucrative energy sector was seen as a last resort in Europe and has proved hardest since the bloc relies on the country for 25% of its oil and 40% of its natural gas. European countries that are even more heavily dependent on Russia have been especially reluctant to act.

In a move unthinkable just months ago, EU leaders agreed late Monday to cut around 90% of all Russian oil imports over the next six months.

Belgian Prime Minister Alexander De Croo called the embargo a "big step forward" on Tuesday morning and Irish Prime Minister Micheal Martin hailed it as "a watershed moment." But both leaders cautioned that Europe would need time to adjust to the impact — and any further bans on Russian energy could only come slowly, if at all.

The deputy head of Russia's Security Council said Tuesday that energy sanctions against the country were intended to hurt ordinary Russians by making it harder for Moscow to fund social programs.

"They hate us all! The basis for these decisions is hatred for Russia, for Russians and for all its inhabitants," Dmitry Medvedev, who is also a former president and prime minister, wrote on the Telegram messaging app. Mikhail Ulyanov, Russia's permanent representative to international organisations in Vienna, appeared to shrug the move off, though, saying Moscow would find other buyers.

Still, analyst Simone Tagliapietra said Russia would likely have to sell its oil at a substantial discount. Tagliapietra, an energy expert and research fellow at the Brussels-based think tank Bruegel, called the embargo "a major blow."

Matteo Villa, an analyst at the ISPI think tank in Milan, agreed that Russia would take a pretty significant hit now—but cautioned that the move could eventually backfire.

"The risk is that the price of oil in general goes up because of the European sanctions. And if the price goes up a lot, the risk is that Russia starts to earn more, and Europe loses the bet," he said. Ideally, the EU would agree how much Russian oil to purchase each month to ensure the maximum pain, Villa said, but that would require constant negotiations that are not realistic given how the bloc works. Russia has also not shied away from withholding its energy supplies.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Hurricane Agatha sets May record

ENVIRONMENT

Hurricane Agatha made history as the strongest hurricane ever recorded to come ashore in May during the eastern Pacific hurricane season, making landfall on a sparsely populated stretch of small beach towns and fishing villages in southern Mexico. The storm hit Oaxaca state Monday afternoon as a strong Category 2 hurricane with maximum sustained winds of 105 mph, then quickly lost power as it moved inland over the mountainous interior. Remnants of Agatha were moving northeast Tuesday into Veracruz state, with sustained winds down to 30 mph. The US National Hurricane Center said the storm should dissipate by the evening, but warned that rains posed a threat.

WHO slams tobacco industry

HEALTH

The tobacco industry is a far greater threat than many realise as it is one of the world's biggest polluters, from leaving mountains of waste to driving global warming, the WHO said Tuesday. The World Health Organisation accused the industry of causing deforestation, diverting badly needed land and water in poor nations away from food production, spewing out plastic and chemical waste as well as emitting millions of tonnes of carbon dioxide. In its report released on World No Tobacco Day, "Tobacco: poisoning our planet", looks at the impacts of the whole cycle, from the growth of plants to the manufacturing of tobacco products, to consumption and waste.

Stress can hamper infection fight

COVID

Acute stress may impair the body's ability to fight off infections, especially Covid-19, and increase the chance of dying, according to a study conducted in mice. The research, published on Monday in the journal Nature, is the first to show how specific regions in the brain control the body's cellular immune response while under acute stress and infected with Covid-19 or influenza. The researchers noted that acute stress prompts neurons from the region known as the paraventricular hypothalamus to instantly trigger a large-scale migration of white blood cells or leucocytes from lymph nodes to the blood and bone marrow. This decreases an immune response to viruses such as Covid-19 and influenza, making the body less resistant to fighting off infection and putting it at greater risk of complications and death, they said.

Nigeria records first death due to monkeypox

ABUJA: Nine people have died of monkeypox in Congo in 2022 while Nigeria has recorded its first death from the disease this year, the countries' health authorities said, even as at least 20 countries continue to grapple with sudden outbreaks not seen in years. Dr. Aime Alongo, chief of the Sankuru health division in Congo, said on Monday that 465 cases of the disease have been confirmed in the nation, making it one of the worst-hit in West and Central Africa, where the disease is endemic.

The persistence of the disease in Congo is due to the consumption of dead monkeys and rodents, Dr. Alongo said. "The residents enter the forest, pick up the corpses of monkeys, bats and rodents which are the reservoirs of monkeypox," the official added, urging those with monkeypox symptoms to visit a health center to isolate themselves.

Elite recreational clubs in the city are known to be the only places to have strict dress codes. Now, joining the bandwagon are the city's new restaurants and bars which are implementing a code for diners to suit the ambience and vibe of the space

DRESS to DINE

ISHRATH MUBEEN

IN the last one week, newly-launched trendy bar, 10 Speakeasy, has had to turn down at least seven-eight guests. The reason? Attire. Smart casuals or semi-formals, and not to forget closed footwear, is an essential for men to enter the space. While recreational clubs are known to be the only places to have strict dress codes, new restaurants and bars in the city are also putting in place similar rules. "We've had a dress code from day one. We are trying to bring some culture to the experience," says Preetham Bhaskar, partner, 10 Speakeasy, which opened on May 19.

Across the street from 10 Speakeasy is Olive Bar and Kitchen which too insists on a certain code for certain times of the day. They inform guests about the dress code at the time of reservation. "During the day, we welcome guests with shorts and flip flops since the place has a beach-like feel. However, from dinner onwards, we have several corporate meetings, and the place also transforms into a stylish one. Hence, we have a dress code where men are to abstain from shorts, sleeveless, and flip flops. Instead, they are expected to dress in smart casuals," says Ashwin D'souza, vice president, operations, Olive Bar & Kitchen.

Slippers and flip-flops are a big no-no at 10 Speakeasy

> We are neither a party place nor a casual dine-in. We feel that guests should be suitably dressed to gel with the surroundings
> —Nikhil Sharma, GM, Gatsby Cocktails and Cuisines

With 'smart' being the buzzword these days, restaurants in Bengaluru too expect their patrons to dress accordingly. Take, for instance, Gatsby Cocktails and Cuisines on Bannerghatta Road, which has put in place a dress code from the first weekend since their launch in February. According to Nikhil Sharma, general manager of the restaurant, the dress code is only applicable between Fridays and Sundays, while they keep it casual on the rest of the days. "Gatsby is neither a party place nor a casual dine-in. We feel that guests should be suitably dressed to gel with the surroundings," says Sharma.

Slippers and flip-flops are a big no-no at most of these restaurants, including at Brassaon St Mark's Road where men are required to wear closed shoes only. But how do they turn away guests who are not appropriately dressed? The key to managing the situation is in being polite and communicating the rules with a smile, the restaurants say. MisoSexy, a newly-launched pan-Asian cocktail bar in Indiranagar, tows the line diplomatically. They inform such guests that a private party is being held and they can't be let in. "Some take the hint and come back the same day dressed better, while a lot of them realise and adhere to the code the next time," says Eshaan Mehta, general manager, MisoSexy.

According to Bhaskar, guests are screened for their attire at the reception by their executives. "While we would love to serve every guest who walks through our door, we turn them down and inform them about the dress code. A lot of times, they actually return, dressed to suit our dress code policy," Bhaskar says.

In fact, Olive even earned a loyal customer thanks to their strict dress code. "We once went a step ahead and offered a guest a new pair of trousers to enter our restaurant. This disgruntled guest went on to become one of our regular guests," D'souza says.

Gatsby has trained their hostesses in social etiquette to handle these situations that could lead to an argument. "It's about how it's put across. Guests also understand the importance of being dressed properly to dine-in," he says.

Inspired by old-world charm and futuristic ideas...the creations of these young students of NIFT spelt variety and diversity

EXPRESS FEATURES

CATCH them young and watch them grow...that has been the motto of the National Institute of Fashion Technology, Bengaluru. And their annual event is proof of it where the students showcased their creations through a fashion show. This year, the show, which happened on May 28, had the students showcasing their designs on different mediums like fabric, watches, gold etc.

For instance, fashion student Abhirami Rajesh, whose collection was inspired from the lotus flower, had an essence of yesteryear movies in it. "The collection is based on the different kinds of lotus' and the different stages they go through," says Rajesh, who originally hails from Kerala. He adds that the inception of the idea came from her home state. "I love the old-world charm. Mostly, people watch movies for the cinematic approach or story line, but I watch it for the style and mood board," says Rajesh, adding that Mani Ratnam movies have inspired her work to a great extent.

The show had a couple of experimental themes like the 'Downtown Fairy', 'If Princess Diana's Revenge Dress had a Futuristic Take'. But not all the work was meant for a ramp walk. For example, Veda Shivakumar, whose theme was 'From Waste to Weaves', says, "It is a journey of sustainability, up-cycling, and weaving. I showcased bags and fashion accessories like bucket hats, all of which were created from waste plastic upcycling initiative," says Shivakumar. Even Samarpan Pradhan from Kalimpong, West Bengal showcased his menswear made of upcycling waste. "There is a lot of play and experimentation on account of techniques used in coming up with this collection," he explains.

NIFT, Bengaluru has been around since 1997 and has had shows where models like Deepika Padukone, Indrani Dasgupta have walked the ramp wearing the students' designs. This year turned out special with the college having their stage show after two years.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE on Thursday.

1. In an attempt to address violence, exploitation and protection of women, the Government of Karnataka established the first 'All Women Police Station' in Bengaluru in 1994. The police station was initially located where the prominent gates of old Bengaluru fort once stood and it was named after the fort gate. Name the fort gate.

2. Name the well-known bank founded by Sir M Visvesvaraya in the year 1913 with its headquarters set up at 'Yelahanka Gate'. This is the northern gateway of old Bengaluru fort which Kempegowda built. The bank has even lent its name to the traffic circle next to it.

3. Name the prominent water body / lake erected by Kempegowda I in the 16th century that existed on the western side of Bengaluru fort which was once a major source of water for the Pete (old city) area. A few decades ago, the lake area was entirely transformed into a bus terminus known as 'Kempegowda Bus Station'.

Chairman of Gokula Education Foundation Felicitated on Prestigious Honour from US

Dr. M R Jayaram, Chairman, Gokula Education Foundation being felicitated by Dr. K Kasturirangan, Former Chairman, Indian Space Research Organization and others on the occasion of being conferred Honorary Doctorate By University of Illinois, Chicago.

Faculty, staff and students of M. S. Ramaiah Group of Institutions felicitated Dr. M R Jayaram, Chairman, Gokula Education Foundation on being conferred a Honorary Doctorate by University of Illinois, Chicago, USA. The university presented the degree of 'Doctor of Humane Letters' to Dr. Jayaram in recognition to his valuable contribution for promoting higher education and healthcare services. He is the third Indian to receive this degree.

Dr. Jayaram was the only recipient of the honorary doctorate in the 140th Commencement Ceremony of the University Of Illinois at University Of Illinois Chicago, USA.

In his felicitation speech, Dr. M R Jayaram dedicated the honour to all the teachers who have built these institutions. He said, "This great recognition is all because of the sacrifices done by the teachers for the last 60 years. I salute you, this is given back to the teachers, and this is your recognition. You are the people who have made what Ramaiah is today".

Dr. K Kasturirangan, Former Chairman, Indian Space Research Organisation and Chairperson, National Steering Committee, Development of National Curriculum Framework) was the Chief Guest at the function. He said "I am deeply privileged to be invited to this memorable occasion, to felicitate Dr. Jayaram, on being conferred an Honorary Doctorate by University Of Illinois Chicago recently."

"In this process you have once more established your credentials as a visionary, a front ranking educationalist, a Philanthropist and a champion of several social processes," he further said.

in his opening remarks, Dr. M R Sreenivasa Murthy, Chief Executive, Gokula Education Foundation (Medical) recalled the felicitation function which was held at the University Of Illinois Chicago and said, "Some of us who were present there had goose bumps; we were filled with pride and joy and it was sad that only few family members were able to attend the occasion."

Dr. Karisiddappa, Vice Chancellor of Visvesvaraya Technological University, Belagavi, Dr. M K Ramesh, Vice Chancellor of Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences Bengaluru, Dr. J N Reddy, Professor O'Donnell Foundation Chair IV Professor Texas A&M University USA, were the Guests of Honour.

The felicitation function to Dr. Jayaram was also witnessed by hundreds of faculties, staff, students and devotees from Kaiwara, apart from his family members and several of his friends.

This documentary filmmaker's latest work covers DRDO's effort in coming up with an alternative to plastic

MONIKA MONALISA

IF plant-based alternatives are taking over the food and cosmetic world, then why not use it as an alternative for plastics too? Documentary filmmaker Ganesh Shankar Raj's latest work covers India's Defence Research and Development Organisation's (DRDO) effort in coming up with an alternative to plastic. This initiative by DRDO is to come up with a biodegradable packaging product, which is made of plant-based food grade materials.

These sustainable bags would be made available in two forms — soluble and insoluble. The bags are biodegraded in about three months without negatively impacting the environment. The 13-minute film, which is made in collaboration with DRDO, shows the process in detail. "The idea can become a game changer. This particular story is important because an Indian organisation has developed it," says Raj.

Raj, whose area of interest mostly lies in history, decided to pick up a subject like this because it could be a possible solution to climate change. "While climate change is a topic of concern, there are many solutions that are being discussed and many of them are coming from Indian organisations," says Raj, adding, "As a filmmaker, I am always hunting for good topics that have some impact. This could be something revolutionary."

DRDO has also launched eco-friendly biodegradable bags for laddus at the temples in Tirumala. "Many eat food from plastic covers and dispose the leftovers in them. Animals can't open the packet to have food, so they eat the entirety which harms the digestive system," says Dr Veera Bhadram, chief scientist and inventor, DRDO.

A still from the film

WHAT IS THIS ALTERNATIVE TO PLASTIC?

Conventional polyethylene bags are made from petrochemicals, which are toxic to the environment and take years to degrade. On the other hand, these bags could degrade in about three months. This can work out to be a sustainable, cost-effective and ocean-safe alternative to plastic products.

VEG MOMOS

INGREDIENTS

- Maida: 1.5 cups
- Salt: 1/2tsp
- Oil: 3 tsp
- Garlic: 3 cloves, Chillies: 2
- Ginger (chopped): 1 inch
- Spring onion: 4tbsp
- Carrot (grated): 1 cup
- Cabbage (shredded): 2cup
- Pepper (crushed): 1/2tsp

METHOD

- Sauté garlic, ginger, and chilli. To it, add spring onion and sauté on high flame. Then, add carrot and cabbage, and continue to stir fry. Add pepper and salt, and spring onion for the stuffing.
- Pinch a small momo's dough and flatten it. Dust it with some maida and start to roll it using a rolling pin.
- Roll a thin circle that is 5 inches in diameter. Roll from the sides as well. Keep the centre thick. Keep some stuffing at the centre.
- Pleat the edges slowly and gather everything. Seal the momos forming a bundle.
- Heat a steamer and arrange the momos in the tray. Make sure they don't touch each other. Steam momos for 10-12 minutes. Serve with chutney.

FIT BIT

ARDHA ADHO MUKHA VRKSASANA

HALF HANDSTAND AGAINST THE WALL

In Sanskrit, 'ardha' means half, 'adho' means downward, 'mukha' means facing, 'vrksa' means tree and 'asana' means pose. It is an advanced hand stand that challenges the yogi's balance and strength. This asana is believed to activate the Sahasrara (crown) chakra, which is the connection to the higher self and divine energy. It is also associated with enlightenment, mental clarity, wisdom, self-knowledge and awareness.

STEPS

- Sit in Dandasana with your feet against the wall.
- Without changing the measure, place your left hand where your right hand is, and replace the right with the left, finding yourself on your hands and knees.
- Now, feel yourself where you are taking your body and hush it up.
- Straighten your arms, hands firm under your shoulders and move your armpits towards the wall. Lift your knees and find the wall with your feet, pushing them firmly into the wall as if you were nailed to it.
- Now, walk your hands to the same height as your hips to form a square with your body and the wall.
- Then press against the floor, extending the forearms and humerus all the while drawing your shoulders away from your ears and pushing your shoulder-blades towards your sternum.
- Calm your mind from thinking that you will topple forward; this will not happen.
- Now observe the state of your spine. Draw the front ribs in and expand the back ribs in order to justify the erectness of the dorsal and lumbar spine.
- Hold 3-5 breaths and remember to breathe.
- Finally, come down gently and extend into Child's Pose (Adho Mukha Virasana) for a few breaths to recuperate.

BENEFITS

- Helps to build upper-body strength.
- Helps to energise the entire body, builds self-confidence and dispels fear.
- Brings joy and overrides lethargy.
- It is helpful in associating with enlightenment, mental clarity, wisdom, self-knowledge and awareness.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have high blood pressure, any cardiac condition, shoulder or wrist injuries, glaucoma or detached retina, headache or menstruation, avoid this asana.

THE BOOKER IN THE WORLD OF BOOK PRIZES

FLYLEAF
VR FEROSE

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

LITERARY prizes, whether famous or lesser known, highlight quality literature, give credibility to the author, and have the potential to increase sales worldwide. What are the book prizes that you follow? I follow the Booker every year but I must admit that I have never read a winning entry before it won the $50,000 prize!

Started in 1969, the Booker Prize is awarded to the best full-length novel written in English in the previous 12 months (October 1 to August 30). Originally meant for those from the Commonwealth and the Republic of Ireland, the prize has been given to novels in English by writers of any nationality since 2015. It was known as the Man Booker Prize from 2002-2019. Since 2005, the International Booker Prize has been given to a novel translated into English from any other language.

The first Indian to win the Booker was Salman Rushdie in 1981 for Midnight's Children; others were Arundhati Roy (The God of Small Things), Kiran Desai (Interpreter of Maladies) and Arvind Adiga (The White Tiger). Rushdie won the Booker of Bookers in the prize's 25th year and Michael Ondaatje won for The English Patient in the 50th year.

The Lost Man Booker Prize was a special edition of the prize awarded in 2010 by a public vote to a novel from 1970. Until 1970, books published in the previous year were eligible, while from 1971 onwards, books published the same year as the award were eligible; thus 1970 was a 'lost year'! The Lost Man Booker was won by JG Farrell for Troubles.

The Guardian started the "Not the Booker Prize" for books chosen through readers' votes. The Women's Prize for Fiction was started in 1996 in response to the all-male shortlist of the 1991 Booker despite more books being written by women than men that year. The Wainwright Prize has two categories, both focusing on nature: nature non-fiction and conservation non-fiction.

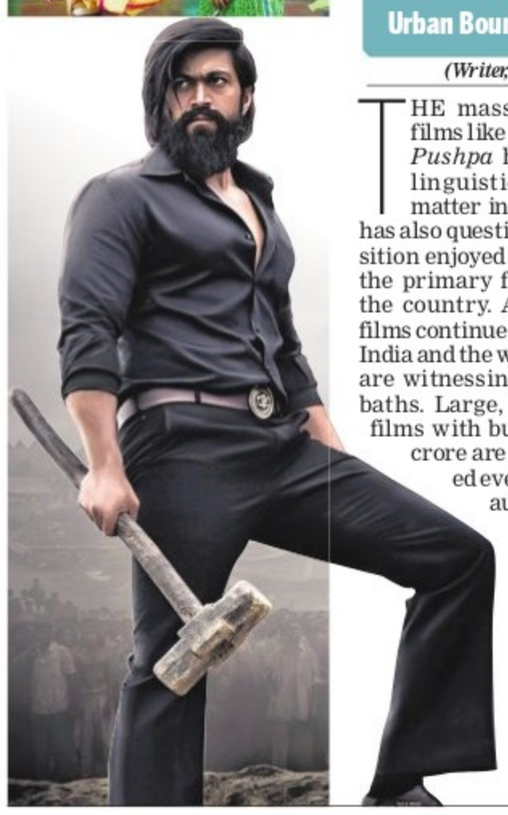
I personally follow non-fiction prizes like the Wolfson History Prize. There are literary awards with a special focus such as the Lambda (LGBTQ+ writing), the Stella (for women writers in Australia), the Pushkin House (writing on Russia), and the Orwell (political writing) prizes. The BookTube Prize is a global award for YouTube content creators in the bookish community.

I must admit that I have not read most of the Booker winners, and there were many that I did not finish — including the longest winning novel in the prize's history, The Luminaries by Eleanor Catton, at 832 pages! My favourite has been Arvind Adiga's The White Tiger. Its movie adaptation was equally impressive although the most famous movie adaptation of a Booker novel, without a doubt, has been Schindler's List (based on Schindler's Ark by Thomas Keneally).

The highest selling Booker book is Yann Martel's The Life of Piwhich sold over 10 million copies. Six authors have won the prize with their first novels: Keri Hulme, Arundhati Roy, DBC Pierre, Aravind Adiga, George Saunders and Douglas Stuart, JM Coetzee, Hilary Mantel, Margaret Atwood and Peter Carey have won the Booker twice.

The Booker novels are more exploratory in their concerns and hence more universal. As we wait for the 2022 Booker, there is already increased interest thanks to Tomb of Sand becoming the first Hindi novel to win the International Booker. Written by Geetanjali Shree and translated by Daisy Rockwell, it was a surprise winner as it hardly got any attention from reviewers!

Bollywood is dead. Long live Bollywood!



HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon

(Writer, comedian)

THE massive success of films like KGF 2, RRR, and Pushpa has proved that linguistic borders don't matter in today's times. It has also questioned the pole position enjoyed by Bollywood as the primary film industry in the country. As south Indian films continue to expand across India and the world, Hindi films are witnessing weekly bloodbaths. Large, well-publicised films with budgets over ₹100 crore are getting decimated every week without audiences.

Having reviewed films for more than a decade, I have tried to make some sense of this trend. The primary difference seems to be the intention. South Indian films — be it comedy, action, or horror — are made with the single-minded intention to entertain the audience. You might not align with the aesthetics, or resonate with the cinematic voice of the film, but you can never question the intention — to entertain.

Ever since Shah Rukh Khan's films began to do massive business overseas, Bollywood films have moved from the heartland of the country, to settle in South Bombay. The largest film industry in the country has forgotten that there's a nation that exists beyond the Bandra-Worli Sea Link. That film critics might hail a film as new-age, but most of India still watches films on single screens after purchasing physical tickets. They still root for a hero who comes from nothing and climbs his way to the top. They want to laugh, cry, hoot their lungs out, and dance in the aisles. Not attend a three-hour unsolicited tuition class on values and morals.

Bollywood films also suffer from the copy-cat syndrome, where they continue to make films that 'trend' in a particular decade. The '90s was the decade of action heroes where the number of heroes equaled the number of heroines. Where the villain was an evil patriarch who created a Ravana-like empire that needed to be infiltrated and destroyed. The 2000s was the decade of romance, and one got to see the likes of brawny heroes like Sunny Deol and Suneil Shetty whisper sweet nothings into the ears of terrified heroines. The 2010s witnessed a comeback of the solo action films, along with comedies. This decade will be the decade of nationalism. But most Indians are patriotic by default. Expecting them to pay upwards of ₹200 to feel patriotic is extremely patronising. Hindi cinema has also struggled to cope with the onslaught of OTT platforms — the go-to for quirky, off-beat, sensitive films. With the arrival of OTTs, theatre films can only survive if they provide what OTT films cannot — the thrills, the chases, the large-screen experience of being transported en masse to a magical world.

Southern films do not wear pretentious hats of any kind. They do not mind being ridiculed by critics who have studied film theory and worship Tarkovsky. Southern films don't pay half the film's budgets to their leading men. Leading actresses in the south are consistently the highest paid in their movies. They don't get lost in masturbatory discourses of art and its impact, and understand that cinema is also a business. That every film feeds thousands of people.

South Indian films do not have stars who are all tall, fair and well-built. They celebrate the ordinary, the normal. Abs are not necessary, but the ability to charm the audiences is a must. If there's one thing South Indian films prioritise, it is the audiences. They understand that a film needs to be loved. Not necessarily understood. Not to be studied to raise social issues. Not rationalised. But loved.

HARPERCOLLINS TO PUBLISH AMISH TRIPATHI'S WAR OF LANKA

HarperCollins recently announced its acquisition of the eagerly awaited new book by India's bestselling author Amish Tripathi, War of Lanka, the fourth book in the Ram Chandra Series, the second fastest-selling book series in Indian publishing history. The previous books in this series include Ram-Scion of Ikshvaku, Sita-Warrior of Mithila and Raavan-Enemy of Aryavarta. It's India in 3400 BCE, with greed, rage, grief, love — smouldering tinder all waiting to trigger a war. But this war is different. This one is for Dharma. This war is for the greatest Goddess of them all. Sita has been kidnapped. Defiantly, she dares Raavan to kill her. She tells him that she'd rather die than allow Ram to surrender. Ram is beside himself with grief and rage. He prepares for war. Fury is his fuel. Raavan thought he was invincible. He had kidnapped Sita. He thought he'd negotiate and force a surrender. Little did he know. The first three books explore the journeys of Ram, Sita and Raavan. In this, the epic fourth book of the series, all narrative strands crash into each other. And explode into the slaughterous war. — IANS

SHIVARAJKUMAR, PRABHUDHEVA'S MULTILINGUAL FILM TO COMMENCE FROM JUNE 9

A SHARADHAA

The film, produced by Rockline Venkatesh, and directed by Yogaraj Bhat, will be a fun-filled musical entertainer

WE had previously announced that Century Star Shivarajkumar and the multi-talented Prabhudheva will be joining hands for the first time for director Yogaraj Bhat's next and it will be produced by Rockline Venkatesh under his Rockline Entertainments banner, which is known for films like Lingaa and Bhajarangi Bhaijaan. It has been announced now that the first schedule of the film will commence with a muhurath on June 9 in Bengaluru.

Producer Rockline Venkatesh, who also plays an important role in the film, shares that the yet-to-be-titled movie bringing two big stars will have an ample dose of comedy, action, music and dance will also be one of the highlights. "On the whole, it is going to be a fun-filled musical entertainer, something the audience has missed out on in a long time. The film also has an extraordinary message that is very relevant to today's situation."

The film has two female leads, and the makers are said to be in talks with a handful of heroines for the roles and are hoping to finalise them soon.

Apart from the male leads it has been confirmed that Telugu actor Tanikella Bharani will be playing a pivotal character in the film.

The yet-to-be-titled project has cinematography by Santhosh Rai Pathaje and music by V Harikrishna.

'I WANT TO BE KNOWN AS A PERFORMER THAN AS A HEROINE'

CE FEATURES

IT was six months after the audition, that Sangeetha Sringeri was brought on board 777 Charlie. And since then there's no looking back for the actor. The project has taken up years of her time. And ahead of the film's release (June 10), the actor tells CE, "It's all worth the wait. I didn't mind letting go of a few projects for 777 Charlie - which I consider as my dream project."

Sangeetha, who plays an officer at the Animal Welfare Board, was aware that her role in 777 Charlie was special when she signed up for it. "I believe in being an artist rather than just another heroine. For me, performance matters, and I'm happy that I've done justice to the role of Devika. Going forward, I'm ok to be part of such films that elevate my character. It is important to be known for my work," says the actor.

Sangeetha says the experience she gained from working in the film is something she will cherish for the longest time. "Director Kiranraj trained me to be a better actor today. He gave me workshops. He made me unlearn everything I had learnt and I began from scratch. He boosted my confidence before I faced Rakshit Shetty. After a point, I got comfortable being Devika and lived in that role for 3 long years. I am still not out of it," she says.

...says Sangeetha Sringeri, who is happy to be a small part of 777 Charlie. She talks about the film and how working with director Kiranraj has helped her become a better actor

When asked how confident about her prospects after 777 Charlie, she says, "Typically, a heroine makes the best out of the first 4 to 5 years of her career, but somewhere I felt, I will get all of it in this one film. 777 Charlie helped me learn the art of patience. After two years, though I was allowed to accept other films, I took a call not to. I didn't want to make the mistake of being part of a wrong film before 777 Charlie," says Sangeetha, who has now signed on for upcoming films Mari-Gold and Lucky Man.

777 Charlie has also changed the way Sangeetha looked at animals. She even adopted a street dog. "I have been a dog lover since childhood, and I have rescued many dogs. That way, Devika's character is something very close to mine. I'm outspoken, and very rude when it comes to standing for myself. The first dog I adopted was called Jacky. My parents were against sheltering dogs inside the house, and I hid them in a shoebox.

I get emotionally attached to it. I even adopted a puppy, named Flora, which was already weak. I didn't mind taking care of it, though I knew it would not live for a long time. Five months after adoption, her condition worsened, and she passed away. It took a while to get over it. To date, I don't have the guts to adopt another dog because I fear losing it. The four-legged animal gives you unconditional love," she says.

Malashri's action-thriller titled Night Curfew

The shoot of the film, directed by Ravindra Venshi was wrapped up recently

CE FEATURES

MALASHRI'S upcoming action-thriller has been titled Night Curfew. Ravindra Venshi, (the director of Puttani Safari, and yet to be released Matta and Vasanthi Nalidaga,), who has wrapped up shooting for the project, has now officially unveiled the film title.

The film's story, written by the director, is based on true incidents. Malashri, who is making a comeback after a hiatus, will be playing the role of an army doctor.

Apart from Malashri, Night Curfew also features Ranjani Raghavan. Produced by BS Chandrashekar under the Swarnaganga Films banner, the film will feature Pramod Shetty, Rangayana Raghu, Sadhu Kokila, and Bigg Boss Season 8 winner Manju Pavagada in important roles.

The film will have no songs, and the makers are yet to finalise the music director for the background score. Pramod Bharatahiya has handled the cinematography.

'THE EXPERIENCES OF PARTITION ARE BEYOND HORROR'

SHILAJIT MITRA

Naseeruddin Shah and Rasika Dugal on their short film The Miniaturist of Junagadh, about a family's reluctant departure in 1947

BUSY as he is, at 71, Naseeruddin Shah has always made time for short films. Of late, in fact, you can see him in two of them: as a gentle, Cantonese-speaking Sardar in Mumbai Dragon, Vishal Bhardwaj's segment in Modern Love Mumbai, and as Husyn, an old, visually-impaired artist in The Miniaturist of Junagadh.

Released by Large Short Films on YouTube, the latter is especially moving. Director Kaushal Oza adapts a German short story (The Invisible Collection, by Stefan Zweig) to the setting of 1947, India. Husyn, in the aftermath of Partition, has to sell off his ancestral home and migrate, unwillingly, to Karachi. The new owner of the house, a brusque and impatient man named Kishorilal, tries to rush them out. However, upon realising Husyn might have expensive artworks in his possession, he plays a last scheme. "I thought it's a wonderful adaptation," Naseer says. "Though the story was likely written before, it has an eerie parallel with the German occupation of France and Italy when they tried to steal all the great artworks."

In The Miniaturist, a twist comes when Noor, Husyn's daughter played by Rasika Dugal, confides in Kishorilal, telling him that they've been secretly selling off her father's miniatures to survive through the riots. Rasika, who's been in Partition-era films like Manto and Qissa, had liked Kaushal's script, but was more thrilled to work with Naseer, who'd taught her during her FTII days. "He had told us something interesting at the institute that came up on set," Rasika recalls. "He had said, 'You can only truly listen to your co-star if you learn up their lines." Expectedly, when Naseer asked her on the first day if she knew her lines, Rasika responded: "I know yours too."

Naseer looks back with some detachment at his teaching days. While he remembers being 'very sure' of his technique ("It was a completely different way of looking at the acting process," Rasika confirms), he had misgivings about the students' motivations. "I was struggling to find the balance between teaching these kids how to act in Hindi commercial movies and learn the nuts and bolts of acting at the same time. It's not possible."

Guru–shishya connections aside, the actors had personal resonance with The Miniaturist. Naseer was born in 1949-1950 in Barabanki near Lucknow. As he recounts in his book, And Then One Day, his father, a government servant, had opted to stay back, even as his uncles and relatives migrated across the border, leaving behind homes and livelihoods. "The leaving part is what I've always felt strongly about," Naseer says. "It's difficult to imagine what people from either side had to go through. It's beyond horror."

Rasika's family, meanwhile, had moved from Burma to Rawalpindi during World War II (they returned when it was safe to go back, after 1946). She grew up hearing stories of displacement and loss, though often told in that matter-of-fact way reserved for children. "My mother was 16 when she left Burma. Much later I found a photograph of her with a friend. She told me the friend lived across the lake, and she couldn't say goodbye to her when she left."

A similar loss prompted The Miniaturist. The film was shot in director Kaushal Oza's own ancestral home in Mumbai (it was pulled down some years ago). Though it's worth discovering on your own, the film's ending strikes a chord. Kishorilal, who begins the film by deriding a Muslim tongawala as 'Aurangzeb ki aulaad', finds in him the humanity to do right by Husyn. It's particularly resonant in the present climate of Mandir-Masjid disputes and a larger renegotiation with India's Mughal history. "If things continue going this way, there will be six hundred years of our history where nothing happened," Naseer says of the ongoing mood in the country. "It's kind of sad. Why not change the name Hindustan as well? It's a Farsi word meaning land of the Sindhu river."

In a lighter vein, we ask Naseer if he bothers to watch television news at all. A resounding 'no' comes as the answer. "What's good in getting one's blood pressure up?" Instead, he's taken lately to MUBI, watching classics of the world and contemporary Indian cinema in his downtime. "I watched the John Huston film Moulin Rouge (1952) and also Fahim Irshad's Aani Mani (2019). It's a wonderful small-budget film about the beef ban in UP which no one seems to have seen."
